$90,000 Requests For Departments To Be Discussed

Requests for sums from city departments will be discussed by the Common Council's finance committee in the Common Council chamber, city hall, at 7 p. m. today.

All aldermen have been invited to attend the session so that they will be fully informed as to details before acting, at the next regular council meeting Nov. 5, on the requests which total approximately $90,000.

Action Deferred

Action on the sums was deferred at the regular council session Oct. 7, and at a recessed meeting Oct. 21.

Of the sums, $37,872.54 would be for six trucks and two high-way spreaders for the public works department, $40,000 would cover snow removal costs, and $12,000 would be to make up for a budgetary change due to transfer of school tax collection to the education department from the city treasurer's office.

Left with the finance committee also at the regular meeting was a request for $50,000 in revenue anticipation notes to cover operational costs in the water department to the end of the year.

Feather Drive Needs $18,001 More to Meet $128,651 Goal

Kingston area's Red Feather campaign reached 86 per cent of its goal today, as volunteer workers continued their efforts to bring the drive to its close by October 31.

Pledges totaling $110,650.29 were reported today, against the goal of $128,651.

Richard M. Kalish, general chairman, commenting on the report, said that continued, intensive efforts are being made by all division leaders and workers to bring in all unreported pledges.

Division totals, to date, are: Business and industry, $76,069.48; special gifts, $10,156.50; commercial, $8,334.82; professional, $6,869.35; government, $1,305.25; education, $2,127.50; labor participation, $1,632; and women's $4,155.39.

The amount raised to date is already 35 per cent above that raised in the drive last year, and is the highest ever raised by the Kingston Area Community Chest for its 10 member agencies.

One-Year Rejection Is Reason Check System Still Point of Argument

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western diplomats at the U.N. grew increasingly fearful today that the Soviet Union plans to scuttle Big Three negotiations for an inspection system to enforce a ban on nuclear weapons tests.

The apprehension stemmed from the Soviet Union's latest flat rejection of the U.S.-British call for a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests, beginning with the opening of the Big Three talks in Geneva Friday.

Wants Complete Suspension
Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told the U.N.'s 81-nation Political Committee Monday night that the Soviet Union was prepared to contribute "in every possible way" to success of the talks. He made plain, however, that the Kremlin would stick to its insistence on an unconditional agreement to suspend tests "immediately and forever."

The Western nuclear powers demand an inspection system to detect violations before agreeing to any permanent suspension of tests.

Zorin served notice once again that the Soviet Union intends to keep on with its nuclear weapon tests until their number equals the total of the United States and Britain have set off since last March 31. On that date the Soviet Union announced it was suspending tests then resumed them Sept. 30.

First Kremlin Reply

Zorin's statement was the first Soviet reply to President Eisenhower's challenge Saturday to the Soviet Union to join the United States and Britain in a one-year suspension of all atomic-hydrogen weapon tests. The two Western powers first proposed the one-year suspension last August. Later they proposed alternatively that tests be suspended during the Geneva talks.

Held for Grand Jury

Theodore Humphrey, 16, of 9 East Pierpont Street, who was booked yesterday on a charge of rape, waived examination today before City Judge Aaron E. Klein, and was held to await grand jury action. The charge, police said, is based on statements indicating that the alleged crime was committed at the East Pierpont Street address. Robert M. Ortale, counsel for Humphrey, was represented by Attorney Joseph Hill. John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office.

Will Lay Off 100 Men At Alsen Cement Plant

CATSKILL, N. Y. (AP) — The North American Cement Co. reports it will lay off 100 men at its plant in nearby Alsen at the end of the week.

The company said Monday the layoffs would be for one month and were due to high inventories. The plant normally employs 220 production workers.

WOUNDED ON QUEMOY—Nurses treat wounds of girl seriously injured during shelling of Quemoy by Communists guns in Red China's new every-other-day war. Red China Shells Quemoy Following Nine Hour Lull

TÁIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China's guns shelled the Quemoy islands sporadically today, one of the even-numbered days on which it is pledged to exempt areas where supplies are unloaded.

A Nationalist Defense Ministry spokesman declined to say whether any shells hit the beaches, air-strips or wharves in violation of the Communist pledge.

However, military sources said no sea convoys were en route to Quemoy. Stormy weather in the Formosa Strait again kept them from putting to the test Communist Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai's broadcast invitation to resupply the islands without artillery hazard on even-numbered days.

The Defense Ministry announced Red coastal batteries opened up at 9 a.m. after a nine-hour lull in the slackened but still deadly offshore war. It said 103 shells hit the islands up to noon.

Ike Is in New York As Big Drive Opens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower, in New York City to accept a football award, carries the ball for Republican office-seekers today in the kickoff of the final week of campaign activity.

Both the Democrats and the Republicans are concentrating on the vote-rich metropolitan area in the final-week drive toward election goals.

Greeted by Candidates

Eisenhower flew into New York Monday night and was greeted at the airport by Nelson Rockefeller, GOP candidate for governor, and Rep. Kenneth Keating, running for U. S. senator.

He conferred briefly with the two candidates later at his hotel.

State Grange Head Says Welfare Costs Must Be Reduced

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — The master of the New York State Grange declared today that costs of public welfare "can and must be reduced."

Leland D. Smith of Brasher Falls told members of his organization that tax-supported welfare was "in too many instances, a small-time political racket." He called for a thorough study of welfare costs.

Smith's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the Grange's 86th annual session. More than 1,000 delegates were on hand for the opening meeting of the four-day convention.

Cites Abuses

He noted that national debt was an average $5,165 per family and the state average was $289. Smith told the meeting:

"Plenty of this tax load can be attributed to welfare and especially its abuses. In too many instances, it is a small-time political racket. In some cases it is just plain laziness. In some cases it is worthy relief."

The convention will draw up the Grange program for 1959, including recommendations for legislation.

Recommendations Stands

Smith questioned whether some taxes were mandatory and asked: "Are we as taxpayers going to (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)"

Warning Is Given

Explosives Stolen From Quarry Area

Local police today were probing the reported theft of 100 sticks of dynamite and five boxes of detonating caps from the quarry area of the County Highway Department, west of Dietz Stadium.

Locks were broken on the magazine containing the dynamite and the separate box holding the caps. The latter are of the type listed as dangerous if in the hands of children, or persons unfamiliar with their use.

Heavy Box

The box of 100 sticks of dynamite, it was noted, would require the strength of an adult, or two or more youngsters to remove it from the magazine.

Actual time of the theft is undetermined. The dynamite and caps were missed this morning and police were immediately notified. Officers William Slover and Charles McCullough were assigned to investigate.

Caps Stolen Before

Theft of detonating caps from the quarry was reported about a year ago, but no dynamite was missing then.

Police issued warnings of the danger involved if the caps were in the hands of youngsters and these were repeated after two boys were badly injured while playing with detonating caps in the vicinity of the West Shore Railroad tracks, west of the Wilbur sector.

Says Democrats Reckless Spenders

Administration Gives Finest Six Years: Ike

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower wheeled up his campaign siege guns for fresh attacks on the Democrats today after assailing them as reckless spendthrifts and promoters of hare-brained schemes.

The President moved onto the New York state political battleground from Pennsylvania where Monday night he called again for election of a Republican Congress a week from today to assure sound, sane and progressive government.

Says Gains Spectacular
In a Pittsburgh speech at a party rally, Eisenhower said his administration has won spectacular gains for America since he took office, and added: "These are the finest six years of progress in our country's history."

The President said further that under Republican direction "the promise of American life has no limit."

Calls Policies Sensible

He said sensible Republican policies have brought the working man more dollars than all the boondoggles ever conceived by spenders—and without "flogging the economy into inflation."

In advance of the Pittsburgh talk, which was carried on television and radio over an 18-state Eastern and Midwestern network Eisenhower told a cheering airport crowd at Charleston, W. Va., in a swat at the Democrats:

Should Show Strength

The voters should "repudiate with our whole strength, with our whole souls, these phony doctrines that would merely put the private citizen in a wheel chair furnished him by the federal government."

Eisenhower came to New York to boost the state GOP ticket led by Nelson A. Rockefeller, the candidate for governor, and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, bidding for the U. S. Senate.

Manager Becomes C-H Director

The election of William J. Mair of Poughkeepsie to the board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation was announced today by Ernest R. Acker, president of Central Hudson. Mair's election filled the vacancy on the board created by the death of Alva S. Staples, this city, on October 7.

Mair has been active in local business, civic and charitable organizations for many years. He has been associated with the International Business Machines Corporation since November 1929 and has been a vice president of the organization and general manager of the Poughkeepsie plant since 1952.

In announcing Mair's election, President Acker expressed the conviction that Mair would bring to the Central Hudson board a high degree of business and administrative ability, an active interest in the civic and economic problems of the Mid-Hudson area and a keen understanding of the necessary technical developments in fire control.

Other Missions to Fly

Although the F86 competition resolved itself Monday with the Air Guardsmen nosing out the U. S. Air Forces in Europe team from Ramstein Air Base, Germany, the three other teams in that race still had a mission each to fly. These teams represent the Air Defense Command, Air Training Command and Pacific Air Command.

Patriarch of Venice Becomes 262nd Ruler

New Pontiff Will Be John XXIII; Is Called One of Most Popular Prelates

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Angelo Cardinal Roncalli was chosen pope today.

Roncalli, patriarch of Venice, becomes the 262nd supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church and its half billion followers.

He is 76 years old.

Chosen in secret conclave by the College of Cardinals, the new pontiff chose the name John XXIII (23rd).

New Titles Listed

He succeeds Pope Pius XII, who died after a reign of 19 years and seven months, one of the longest reigns in the history of the church.

The new Italian pope, in the Roman Catholic view, is in direct succession to St. Peter. His titles, as officially listed by the church, are:

"Bishop of Rome, Vicar of Jesus Christ, Successor of the Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Province of Rome and Sovereign of the State of Vatican City."

The new pope, bald-headed and benign looking, has been one of the most popular prelates in Italy. He also has many friends abroad, particularly in France where he spent eight years as Papal Nuncio.

Untiring Worker

He has a sturdy health and is an untiring worker. His affable manners and quick-witted conversation have made him a well known figure at many diplomatic receptions.

He was born as the son of a farmhand in a small village in the province of Bergamo. The people of this region, the Bergamaschi, are known to be good-humored and easy going and young Roncalli lived up to this reputation.

After graduating from the Roman Pontifical Seminary in 1904, he became personal secretary of the Bishop of Bergamo, Msgr. Radini-Tedeschi. In this post, which he held until the bishop's death in 1914, he acquired an early knowledge of the administrative structure of the church and also devoted himself to historical studies.

Served As Sergeant

During the war, he served first as a sergeant in the medical corps and later became an army chaplain. A three year term as a lecturer on theology and church history in the province of Bergamo followed.

In 1921, Pope Benedict XI called him to Rome and entrusted him with the task of reorganizing the church's missionary work in the Congregation Propaganda Fide (for the propagation of faith).

Pius XI, who succeeded Benedict in 1922, also took a strong interest in the missionary work and Roncalli kept his post for four years, traveling to many foreign centers.

Chosen by Pius XII

His diplomatic career began in 1925 when he was sent to Bulgaria as apostolic visitor. Early in 1935 he moved to Turkey as apostolic delegate for Turkey and Greece. Late in 1944 he became Nuncio to the Fourth French Republic. A week later, he handed his credentials to Gen. Charles de Gaulle. Pope Pius XII had chosen Roncalli for a delegate mission, the Vatican having been represented earlier at Vichy by Valerio Cardinal Valeri.

For eight years he stayed in Paris, and some in his entourage said he had virtually "conquered" the French capital. In 1953, Pope Pius XII showed his recognition for his Nuncio's successful mission by making him a member of the College of Cardinals.

Javits Is Urging President to Call Bombing Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) today urged President Eisenhower to summon a White House conference on ways to combat bomb violence and increasing distribution of hate literature.

Javits, in a telegram to Eisenhower, said the bombings have been "directed particularly at Americans who are Negroes or of the Jewish faith."

"Coupled with this violence," Javits said, "has been a mass outpouring of hate literature attempting to exploit all of the base aspects of bigotry, lawlessness and discrimination."

He said the proposed conference—of citizens, community organizations and elected state officials—could determine methods to fight the situation.

Asking Eisenhower to call the conference at the earliest practicable date, Javits said such a gathering would have "the overwhelming support of all our citizens, who are deeply shocked by these developments."

Sabrejet Rocket-Firing Title Won by Florida Air Guard

By VERN HAUGLAND

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—A sharp-shooting team from the Air National Guard at Jacksonville, Fla., has flown away with the world championship in the Air Force Sabrejet rocket firing competition.

The Jacksonville jet jockeys smacked their volleys of 24 Mighty Mouse rockets into the target dunes every time up for a perfect tally of 40,800 points.

Maj. Gen. Winston Wilson, chief of the Air National Guard, said of the amazing achievements of Florida's 125th Fighter Interceptor Group: "This proves without qualification that the Guard can maintain high performance equipment with the necessary technical developments in fire control."

Other Missions to Fly

Although the F86 competition resolved itself Monday with the Air Guardsmen nosing out the U. S. Air Forces in Europe team from Ramstein Air Base, Germany, the three other teams in that race still had a mission each to fly. These teams represent the Air Defense Command, Air Training Command and Pacific Air Command.

Two other categories of competition were still much in dispute today with the winner probably not to be decided until Wednesday. Among the three teams flying the F8J Scorpion and firing (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1)

13-Year Series Of Atomic Tests In Finale Today

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The final phase of a series of atomic tests that began 13 years ago is set for today.

On the board, in a hurry-up schedule before Friday test ban deadline set by President Eisenhower, were two tower shots and two in tunnels.

One of each was planned for today. Starting with the Trinity test, the AEC has set off 111 explosions up to the start of this current series. Fourteen more have been detonated up to today.

NEW YORK (AP)—Where all the money that consumers spend is coming from is made a bit clearer today. The rate at which they went on shelling out money was scarcely squeezed by the business slump.

The recession's hangover—unemployment—has been relieved only slightly. But the loss of this spending money due to reduced payrolls largely is being made up in other ways, the government tells us.

There are the payments from government unemployment benefit funds and from various corporate funds of a like nature to keep some money in the pockets of the jobless for a time.

But while the durable goods industries were suffering, some other spending money was pouring into the economy.

Farmers have more cash today than a year ago; so do various government employees.

People whose paychecks or incomes come from services rendered or from public utilities or financial firms were touched scarcely at all. These industries have kept right on climbing during the recession.

Those who rely on dividends for all or part of their income have suffered less than at first seemed likely.

The net income of the nation's corporations after taxation took a big drop while the recession was with us, but the total of dividend payments dropped only slightly.

The outlook is for higher incomes all along the line. The Commerce Department says the total of wages and salaries advanced from June to October at an annual rate of 4½ percent, dollars, so that the annual rate at the end of September was 25½ percent. This wipes out about two-thirds of the recession's toll.

Higher payment totals are expected as more laid-off workers are recalled and as recent wage hikes and longer work weeks swell the total of paychecks.

While many corporations are reporting reduced nine-month profits compared with a year ago, a sizable number show that third-quarter results were better than the first half of the year. An increasing number are predicting much better earnings reports for these last three months of the year.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 28, 1958

BINGO ORDINANCE

At the general election November 4, qualified voters in the City of Kingston will have the opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not bingo shall be legalized.

The people have a chance to express their will by their vote on Local Law No. 1, which will appear on the voting machines in the polling places in Kingston under the following form of submission: "Shall Local Law No. 1, 1958 adopted by the Common Council of the City of Kingston on August 5th, 1958, and authorizing the conduct of Bingo Games within the City of Kingston, be approved?"

Following affirmative action by the Common Council on the proposed ordinance, a public hearing was held. At the hearing but three persons expressed opinions, two for and one against.

Arthur T. Pederson, an executive representative of the Kingston Area Council of Churches, who opposed bingo, said that it was feared that "the legalizing of bingo will create an appetite for gambling of an even more pernicious type."

Joseph Fabiano representing Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose said that membership of the Moose Lodge was "wholeheartedly in favor."

LeRoy Caughney speaking for Joyce Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars said the VFW "backs bingo all the way." It should go on the ballot, he said, "to let the people decide."

Because of the thoroughness of the law, resulting in smaller profits than anticipated, some organizations are dropping the games. Cities also are running into bingo deficits because of administrative costs.

The state, by state-wide vote, has legalized under stringent rules and left it to local option.

The law requires a vote by the qualified electors of each city, town and village of the state to pass on the question of permitting bingo games before the law becomes effective in that municipality. Provisions of the law are inoperative unless the majority of the voters approves it.

The law permits bingo games to be conducted by religious, charitable or nonprofit organizations of veterans, volunteer firemen and similar nonprofit organizations.

No alcoholic beverage shall be offered or given as a prize in any game of bingo, nor shall alcoholic beverages be offered, served or consumed when bingo is played. Children under 18 years of age are not permitted to attend bingo games unless accompanied by an adult.

There are also other limitations including the advertising of bingo games. Advertising of bingo is prohibited in newspapers, or by radio, television, or sound trucks. Requirements confine the advertisement to one sign, not exceeding 60 square feet in area, which may be displayed on or adjacent to the premises where the game is to be held, with additional sign where prizes are displayed and still others on volunteer fire equipment within the community served.

On the Federal level, postal regulations on gambling prohibit news accounts which would serve to publicize bingo in advance of games. Bingo is generally acknowledged to be a game of chance.

The State Lottery Control Commission lists the following Ulster County municipalities which have approved bingo ordinances as of September last: Village of Ellenville, Town of Esopus, Town of Lloyd, Town of Marlborough, Village of New Paltz, Village and Town of Rosendale, Town of Shawangunk, Town of Shandaken, Town of Saugerties, Town of Ulster and Town of Wawarsing.

MR. NIXON SAYS HIS PIECE

Since about 1942, no full dress debate on the foreign policy of the United States has taken place. Elections have come and gone and the silence was uniform, on the general assumption that we must have a bi-partisan foreign policy in order to give the impression to foreigners, particularly the Russians, that we were an absolutely unified people.

Such uniformity of thought has never existed. What did happen was that in time of actual war, even the most ardent isolationist served his country in defiance of his private judgment.

There has been considerable criticism of the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, particularly among the pro-Russians and the pacifistic elements. This is satisfactory, provided the subject is debated. A whispering campaign such as came out of what is euphemistically called Wall Street in favor of recognizing Red China is not a debate; it is a propagandistic effort to create a public opinion damaging to the interests of the United States for private benefit.

For several years, such libels have been met with official silence on the assumption that to dignify falsehood is to give the appearance of recognizing its importance. The Vice President, Richard Nixon, is too robust to accept the notion that to ignore a falsehood is to establish its falsity. He has insisted that it is the function of government to tell the people the truth and he and President Eisenhower have taken to the hustings to proclaim the strength of their convictions.

Nixon distinguished between decision and policy and made the point that when a decision has been reached, a decision that could lead to war, there is danger in internal divisions because an enemy might take advantage of them. However, before the decision has been taken, while policies are being formulated, there ought to be freedom of discussion which could only aid in the formulation of a decision.

President Eisenhower seemed disinclined to this view and said that he, as President, could not reply to attacks. Nevertheless, Nixon said: "... for us who have the responsibility of carrying the weight of this campaign to stand by and to allow our policies to be attacked with impunity by our opponents without reply would lead to inevitable defeat. I intend to continue to answer the attacks of the responsible members of the opposition on our policy. I'm going to answer them factually. I'm going to answer them articulately and I hope effectively."

His reasons for this view are:

"... we are electing men who are going to make policy. And people are entitled to know whether a Senator for example believes that Communism should be admitted to the U.N. or that it should not be admitted. This ought to be debated. It should not be ruled out in a political campaign."

This is absolutely sound doctrine. It is a position that was adopted by many Americans during the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations. To this, the reply generally was, as Nixon says, let the record speak for itself. But we never knew the full record. Until the Wedemeyer Report was published one hot Summer night, we knew little of the machinations for turning China over to the Communists. The same can be said of many phases of our foreign decisions, some of which are not yet available.

Nixon said:

"One of the reasons the Republican Party is in trouble today is because over the past two years, particularly, we have allowed people to criticize our policies and we have not stood up and answered effectively. That's a mistake, not only in the field of foreign policy but in the field of domestic policy. I don't intend to make that mistake in this campaign and I'm going to continue... reciting the record of this Administration, reciting the claims and the record of the previous Administration, and letting the people take their choice. That's my view of a political campaign."

Vice President Nixon is performing a great service by encouraging debate. There is not enough of this in American political life. I would, for instance, still like to know how we came to make such an error as supporting Nasser in the Suez Canal situation. That one ought to be brought into the open. Perhaps Vice President Nixon's example will one day be followed by other public officials who will trust the American people to know what is happening to their country. Cataract Yields Readily to Surgery, Even in the Aged

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the most widespread health problems today is a disease of the eyes known as cataract. Thousands of people develop this difficulty every year, and their numbers are increasing simply because more of us are living longer to the age cataracts become more frequent.

A cataract involves that portion of the eye which serves as a lens. The lens is normally clear but becomes clouded in cataract. This produces a blurring of vision.

Perhaps it can be explained best by comparing it with the lens of a camera. If a camera lens is not clean, a picture taken with it would be blurred and fuzzy.

How much fuzziness there is depends on the amount of cloudiness in the lens. If only part of the lens is involved, part of what is seen may be clear and part hazy. If the whole lens is clouded, then all objects will be blurred.

A beginning cataract, in which the clouding is slight, is called "incipient." When the process of clouding has been completed it is called "ripe" or mature.

Unfortunately, medical treatments—such as drugs or vitamins—have not proved to be of value in dissolving material which clouds the lens, nor can they restore normal vision. Glasses also do not cure cataracts nor give adequate correction.

Operation is the best treatment for a cataract. When the cataract is mature it can be removed and full vision restored in uncomplicated cases. Surgery of the eye has been so much improved that it is sometimes possible to remove the lens with a cataract in its early stages of development—that is, before it is "ripe."

In response to several people in their 80's or 90's who have inquired, I should like to say that many of them can be successfully operated on in spite of their advanced years.

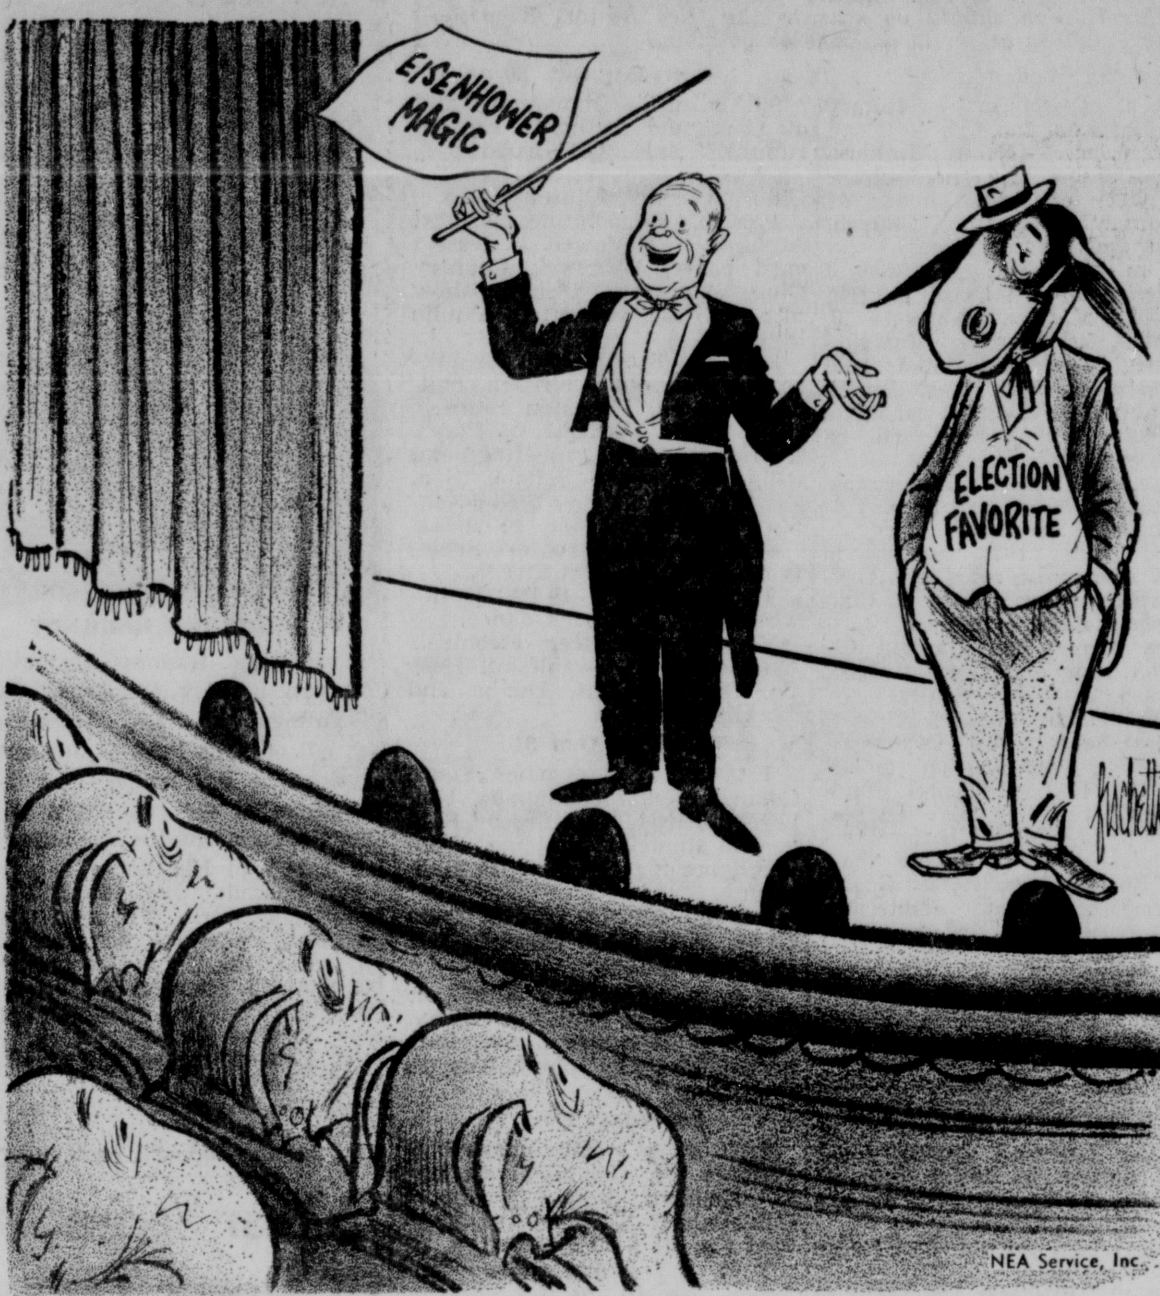

There is no reason to believe that eyestrain leads to the development of cataract, though, of course, eyestrain should be avoided for other reasons. Heredity and particularly increasing years seem to have more to do with most cases of cataract than anything else.

An untreated cataract will lead eventually to blindness. This unfortunate situation, however, can be avoided because of the excellent results now obtained by surgery.

"When I Wave This Wand, He'll Disappear—I Hope"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—

Louis H. Bean, who wrote "How to Predict Elections" 10 years ago and followed it up with "The Mid-Term Battle" in 1950, is probably the most sought-after political oracle in town these days.

Bean insists, however, that he doesn't make predictions. He started out as an economist and sticks to that as his profession. He just happened to take up political statistics as a hobby. So he compiles a lot of background data on factors which have influenced election results in the past. He lets others do the predicting.

"I never know what will happen, in spite of the projections," he admits with refreshing candor or modesty.

He cites his own experience in the 1954 mid-term election to show how things can change in the final weeks of a campaign. His projections for that year indicated the Democrats should gain 40 seats in the House.

What happened was that Vice President Richard M. Nixon took to the airwaves in a hard-driving whirlwind campaign. Bean credits this effort to cutting down the Democratic House gain from the expected 40 seats to 19—from a minority of 213 to a majority of 232.

ANOTHER unpredictable thing like this may be happening this year, Mr. Bean cautions. Vice President Nixon is again waging a vigorous campaign. If he is as successful in 1958 as he was in 1954, he may again cut expected Democratic gains in half. At this stage of the campaign there's no way to measure vote shifting in the final days.

What the Bean data seem to indicate this year is a Democratic gain of 40 to 60 seats in the House, a Democratic gain of 20 to 24 seats in the Senate.

If you make the same allowance for the Nixon factor this year that should have been made four years ago, these estimates could be cut in half.

That would mean a Democratic gain of 20 to 30 seats in the House, 10 to 12 seats in the Senate. No effort is made to pinpoint where these gains—if any—will be made.

The Bean data are based on three principal factors. The first is business trends, including employment conditions. The second is the long-term historical trend. The third factor is the President's popular support.

IN THE LIMITED SPACE available here, it isn't possible to go into all the tables, graphs, statistics and percentage figures which build up this theory.

In brief summary, it may be mentioned that while recovery has been rapid in the last few months, the business indexes are still below what they were a year ago. Unemployment, while declining, is still greater than a year ago.

Gallup polls indicate 56 per cent of the voters showing Democratic party preference. In 1956, when the Democrats retained their control over the House even though President Eisenhower was re-elected President, 51 per cent of the vote went for Democratic congressmen.

This five percentage point gain in Democratic vote would be enough to sweep into office 40 to 60 more Democratic congressmen and 20 to 24 Democratic senators.

The Maine election showed an eight per cent Democratic gain, but is discounted three points by Governor Muskie's personal popularity.

ER'S personal popularity, also measured by Gallup polls, is down from its January 1957 high of 79 per cent. It was down to a low of 49 per cent last April. It rose to 54 per cent in May and 58 per cent in August. It seems to rise as the President's problems get tougher. A further rise before election day might also have the effect of cutting down Democratic gains.

In the government races, Mr. Bean has charts to show that in the past, results have closely paralleled the changes in House of Representatives strength, percentage-wise.

There are 34 governors being elected this year, including the new state of Alaska. The Nixon influence might not affect governorship races so much. So, on a percentage basis, election of 21 to 22 Democratic and 12 to 13 Republican governors is a possibility.

Wide Confusion Is Noted On 'Right to Work' Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is very skillful in public debate but on the television Sunday she misinterpreted the real issue in the "right to work" controversy. She is not alone in her view, however, for there is widespread misunderstanding by many people of the underlying purpose of the "right to work" issue in the six states where it is on the ballot this year.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked why, although once a member of the Commission on Human Rights in the United Nations, she today fails to champion the cause of the worker who is threatened with the loss of his job unless he joins a union. The transcript of the interrogation reads in part as follows:

"Q. In your column, Mrs. Roosevelt, in 1941—March 12—you said: 'I do not believe that every man and woman should be forced to join a union—'

"Mrs. Roosevelt: No, I don't. I don't think you should be forced to join a union, but that means, then, you go work where there is no union."

But that's just the problem. For when a man has learned only one trade and is not skilled in any other occupation, he should not be compelled to give up his means of livelihood and try to get work in some non-unionized plant—if there are any left in his industry. He could, of course, sell his home and move to some other state or to a foreign country. What a travesty on American freedom and the bill of rights.

What Mrs. Roosevelt said, in effect, also is that, when in a plant a majority of the workers want a union, the minority should join and that, since this is a "rule" which the employer and the union have agreed to, the worker should abide by it no matter what his conscientious beliefs may be about joining unions.

Not so long ago the "self-styled liberals" were denouncing so-called "McCarthyism" when some employees of the government were being fired from their jobs because they couldn't get "clearance" or when certain workers were being "blacklisted" in private industry because of their "beliefs."

But today the erstwhile champions of "freedom of belief" and "freedom of association" are turning a cold shoulder toward the workmen who do not believe in membership in a union.

Pennsylvania Case Cited

Take the recent case of the man in Emporium, Pa., who had been working for many years at the same job in a plant when the employer suddenly found himself compelled to sign a form of "closed shop" contract with the union. The union had a history of having once been expelled from the C.I.O. as Communist-dominated. The worker, as a respected member of the local School Board, had taken an oath to have nothing to do with Communists. To be on the safe side, he refused to join the union and then was deprived of his job.

The principle is just the same whether a union is or isn't dominated by Communists. The individual in free America ought never to be compelled to join any private organization whether benevolent or otherwise, as the price of holding a job. Nor should he be compelled to pay dues to any organization which engages in politics and uses its funds or the services of its officers to participate in political campaigns for certain candidates whom all the individual workers do not endorse.

When Mrs. Roosevelt was on "Meet the Press" television show last Sunday, she gave the impression that, without the principle of total union membership for all employees in a plant, unions could not maintain collective bargaining rights. The fact is that the right to collective bargaining is achieved by law whenever a majority in a plant express their desire to have a particular union represent them. It isn't lost when a minority dissent or decline to join.

Bargaining Protected

The "law of the land," as laid down first by the Wagner Act and subsequently by the Taft-Hartley Act, guarantees the right of collective bargaining to the union that gains a majority. The Supreme Court has gone further. It has ruled that individual employees in the minority cannot make separate contracts for wages with the employer. The members of the minority have thus been deprived of the right to bargain collectively. For this loss of privilege, which the Supreme Court has conceded is "an abridgement of the minority's fundamental rights," these workers now are asked to pay tribute. They must join the union or lose their jobs if the employer and the union act together to enforce such a contract.

The labor unions call this a "union shop," but the term is misleading. It is still a shop dominated by a union even if the minority decline to join. The correct term is a "totalitarian shop." For what is really applied is coercion and, unless 100 per cent of the workers agree to join, those who decline are punished.

Eighteen states have "right to work" laws that prohibit contracts which compel workers to join unions. Six states are voting next week on whether to enact similar laws. The unions are fighting these proposals vigorously. They seem to be confessing they cannot depend on voluntary membership but must have 100 per cent membership, and by compulsion if necessary. So They Say..

I ran out and looked at the other one (the first moon shot) Aug. 17. It blew up in my face. I decided to stay inside on this one.

—Hal Eaton, of Weirsdale, Fla., who pushed the button launching Pioneer moon rocket.

I do not see any reason why we should not criticize. It's one of the privileges of democracy. —Sen. Theodore Green (D-R.I.), asked by President Eisenhower to tone down his attacks on foreign policy.

The nation has only a brief respite to put its house in order. To attempt to counter this healthy trend (slight decrease in births) by the use of mass persuasion—hidden or overt—is not in the national interest.

Sergeant Pleads Innocent to All Recruit Charges

FT. JACKSON, S. C. (AP) — The government will seek to prove today that a veteran sergeant forced a recruit to shout obscene phrases before fellow members of an Army training company.

Testimony by Pvt. Custis T. Hathorne concludes the prosecution's case in the general court-martial of Sgt. I. C. Charles L. Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala.

Moman pleaded innocent to all seven specifications in the general charges of assault and battery and maltreatment of recruits at this infantry training center.

Moman, a veteran of Korean combat, faces a maximum sentence of 3½ years in prison and dishonorable discharge if convicted on all counts.

Pvt. Jimmy Cope of Mountain Creek, Ala., testified that Moman threatened to hang him. He said a tent rope was placed around his neck and thrown over a tree limb that was to serve as a gallows.

"I didn't know exactly what he was going to do," Cope said. "But I knew he wouldn't hang me."

He said the incident occurred after he had fallen asleep on a firing range and the mock hanging with Moman lecturing him about the dangers of going to sleep in combat.

Pvt. James J. Moore of Parkersburg, W. Va., said he was dipped head first into a mess hall grease trap by three fellow recruits acting under the direction of Moman. Moore said he had violated the chain-of-command in asking the company first sergeant directly about Army enlistment opportunities.

The names of Master Sgt. George Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and First Lt. Gerald Wheatley, 24, of Bridgeton, N. J., turned up in much of the testimony.

Sovie, the first sergeant in the recruit company, was convicted last week of assault and battery and maltreatment. He was reduced in rank one grade and fined $50.

Wheatley, the company commander and a 1956 graduate of The Citadel, is scheduled to go before a general court-martial later this week on charges of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer.

Federal Judge Studies Request To Start Power Job

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A federal district judge is considering a request by the State Power Authority that it be allowed to start work immediately on the Tuscarora Indian Reservation.

The Indian land, about 1,300 acres, is wanted by the authority for a reservoir for the $700,000,000 Niagara power project.

The Indians have fought the authority in the federal courts up to the Supreme Court, which refused to consider the case.

Judge Harold P. Burke reserved decision here Monday on the authority's request for temporary possession of the land near the Niagara River.

The Tuscaroras asked Judge Burke to turn down the request, pending a decision in the U. S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia on the validity of the state to build the project.

Judge Burke has granted the authority permission to start construction of power lines on 86 acres of the reservation. The authority had said further delays on this phase of the work would have been too expensive.

They Go Up Not Down

DALLAS (AP) — Luella Gray, 22, charged with robbery, became enraged at photographers while she was being questioned at the police station Monday.

"If you don't stop taking pictures, I'm going to take my clothes off," she threatened. The photographers didn't stop. But the shapely woman only pulled the neck of her sweater up to hide her face.

Think It Through

ALL IS NOT GOLD—

Did the recent changes in Social Security do the old folks any good?

They raised the benefits about 7 per cent since 1956 when they were last increased. But in 1956 the $ was worth 51.1c (of the 1939 $). It is now worth 48c, a shrinkage of 3.1c.

This is a loss of a little over 6%. It shows that the old folks will be only 1% better off — not 7%.

An old man or woman in the lowest benefit bracket will get 33 $'s a month, instead of 30 $'s—a dollar gain of 3 $'s. But measured by the cost of living in today's cheaper $'s, the gain is only 30¢.

"All is not gold that glitters!" In the highest benefit bracket for a retired worker, the dollar gain will be worth only 80¢ a month.

This margin of 30-80¢ a month may soon be completely wiped out as the cost of living goes up. The recent wage increases in the automobile and other industries may do so before a year rolls by.

Meantime, 70 million workers will pay up to $25.50 a year more into the fund. So they are that much worse off.

Sad to say, the increased benefits add more fuel to the fire of inflation. They increase the $'s to buy goods, but produce no more goods to buy.

Neighbor, when will we elect Congressmen who will stop rotting our $'s away?

Health for All

Your Pet and TB

What are the chances of catching tuberculosis from a pet animal? It depends somewhat on the species, but in general the animal runs more risk of getting TB from you.

There are three major strains of tuberculosis germs—human, bovine, and avian. Half a century ago it was only too common for people to be infected with bovine germs by drinking the milk of tuberculous cows. Today it is exceedingly rare in the United States, although still a serious problem in many other countries.

When a dog develops TB, the infection can more often be traced to man than to another animal. Cats, on the other hand, are seldom infected by their owners. Canaries, too, rarely develop human TB. They're naturally more susceptible to avian TB. Oddly enough, parrots are more susceptible to the human strain of germs than to the bird type.

Wild animals in their native habitat are believed to be free of TB, but in captivity, exposed to man, they frequently develop the disease. Monkeys appear to be the most susceptible of all animals. Even elephants have been known to die of TB, infected by their human keepers in zoos and circuses. Rodents such as guinea pigs, rabbits, and mice rarely are infected with TB when they're kept as pets. Of course, they can be infected artificially in the laboratory for purposes of scientific investigation.

The modern TB problem is primarily a human problem. If bovine TB can be brought under control and kept that way, human TB can also be controlled. You can do your share by making sure no member of your family is infected with TB germs. Your family doctor will give each one the simple tuberculin test. If the test is positive, a chest X-ray and other tests will tell whether active disease is present. With today's methods of treatment, cure is almost certain.

Doughnut Faces Are Kid Stuff at Halloween Party

DOUGHNUT caricatures are a do-it-yourself feature of a teenage Halloween party. The idea is simple, yet lots of fun.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For that last-minute teenage Halloween party here's a fun idea. Buy a hefty supply of doughnuts, also candy corn, gum drops, jelly beans, chocolate sprinkles and a large jar of prepared topping.

Place doughnuts and all the "fixins" on a table. Then invite the young guests to decorate the doughnuts to make caricatures. Have a prize for the funniest.

The circular shape of the doughnut makes an ideal base for the caricatures. Add topping, then decorate, using candy corn, gum drops, jelly beans to simulate eyes, ears, nose and mouth. Make either smiling faces or sad faces, animal or human. Chocolate or colored sprinkles create comic hair or chin whisker effects. P. S.: Good to eat, too. Here's a teen-age dip for the party. Serve apple wedges and potato chips with it:

Peanut Butter Dip
(Yield: 1½ cups)

Blend 2/3 cup creamy peanut butter and ¼-ounce container of sour cream together until smooth. Add 1 tablespoon mustard with horseradish and salt to taste. Serve with apple wedges, crackers or potato chips. Note: This can be made ahead and refrigerated, but allow to stand at room temperature before serving.

Be sure to have a large bucket with ice filled with carbonated drinks. Teen-agers are very thirsty people, you know.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, pan-broiled hamburgers, sliced sweet onions, warm soft rolls, French fried potatoes, canned peas, baked apples stuffed with mince meat, coffee, tea, milk.

Williams Sworn In To Frauds Bureau Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Former U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams goes to work today as a special assistant to coordinate the activities of the State Election Frauds Bureau.

Williams was sworn in Monday by Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz. Williams resigned his federal position in the Southern District of New York earlier this year to seek the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. The nomination went to Rep. Kenneth Keating.

Fire Shuts Down Radiator Factory

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Harrison Radiator factory was shut today as a result of a fire in the power plant that caused damage estimated at up to $150,000.

About 2,000 workers in the factory, a unit of the General Motors Corp., were sent home at noon Monday when the fire cut steam, air and some electrical power from the assembly lines.

The fire, reportedly caused by spontaneous combustion, started in one of several coal bunkers high in the power generating plant, a steel and brick structure. No one was hurt.

The stubborn fire burned most of Monday in the coal bins. The walls and roof were badly damaged. Factory officials estimated the damage.

Economist Favors Long Range Loans To Help Students

NEW YORK (AP)—A Harvard economist today proposed a loan program for needy college students by which they could finance their education on a long-range installment plan.

Seymour E. Harris, chairman of Harvard University's department of economics, made the proposal in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the college entrance examination board. Under the program, loans ranging from $500 to $1,500 per year would be provided for students in private institutions of higher learning and $500 loans would be available for students in public institutions.

"The lenders may be financial institutions," Harris said, "and if they are unable or unwilling to finance a program . . . the government should cooperate through providing loan funds and guarantees."

Should the government undertake the responsibility Harris added, "the cost would be considerably less than those of scholarships, tax credits, and increased exemptions under the income tax widely sponsored now. This is on the assumption of an unsubsidized loan program."

An adequate lending program, Harris said, could enable colleges to make necessary increases in tuition rates, and this increased revenue would allow them to finance a doubling of faculty pay at 1970 enrollment.

Two Strip House To Get Wine Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrolmen A. G. Eger and W. J. Futer, walking their beat at night, glanced up a condemned building's third floor window. Out flew a bathtub. Then came a radiator. The policemen rushed inside and found Andrew Sampson, 46, and Calvin Baker, 22. They were stripping the house to get money for wine, the bathtub tossers announced.

Municipal Court Judge George D. Neilson sentenced Sampson to 90 days in jail and Baker to 60 after they pleaded guilty to charges of larceny.

Police Stop Two Boys Ready for Train Ride

Two boys apparently bent on hopping a West Shore freight train were picked up by police early today.

Police were notified at 2:34 a. m. that the one boy, reported as 16 years old, and six feet tall, was missing from his downtown home.

Immediately after that call, came another from a railroad employee, who said two boys were at the railroad shed off Flatbush Avenue, and were talking about hopping a freight.

They were brought to headquarters, questioned and turned over to their parents. The other boy, a year younger, was also from the downtown area.

Sinatra Denies Altar Plans Back Of British Visit

LONDON (AP)—Frank Sinatra told Queen Elizabeth II and 2,000 other first nighters Monday night that he didn't come to London to get married.

The singer made his declaration in obvious answer to newspaper speculation about him and Lady Beatty, the American-born divorcee with whom he has been gadding about London.

Sinatra spoke out as master of ceremonies at the premiere of Danny Kaye's movie "Me and the Colonel."

"I came to England to introduce the stars of this movie and for no other reason," he told the audience. "I didn't come here to get married! Some people would have me married as often as Farouk."

The Queen and Prince Philip smiled. Most of the audience cheered. Lady Beatty wasn't present.

An all out effort will be made to instruct the voters on the proper procedure in writing in candidates' names in the manner prescribed by law, Worthington L. Rider, county chairman reported.

At Strong Memorial Hospital a surgeon removed a vein from William's uninjured right leg and grafted it into the mangled left leg.

At St. Mary's Hospital artificial kidney apparatus was pressed into service when a kidney infection developed. General Hospital supplied a phytotermin blanket to help control William's rising temperature.

Wife, Shot Four Times, Gives Birth to Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A teenage wife who was shot four times in the stomach by her estranged husband gave birth to a 6-pound, 9-ounce baby Monday night.

The baby girl, a month premature, was wounded superficially but reported in fine condition by hospital attendants. The mother's condition was described as critical.

Police said the father Miles Kennedy, 22, committed suicide after shooting his wife Caroline, 18, during an unsuccessful reconciliation attempt at the home of Mrs. Kennedy's mother in suburban Downey.

Unwed Mother Pleads Innocent In Stabbing

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—An unwed mother, who police say, stabbed her newly born twin boys with a scissors causing the death of one, pleaded innocent in police court today to a second-degree murder charge.

Miss Gertrude Noyes, 33, was arraigned before Judge Truman H. Preston shortly after her release from a hospital where she had been under police guard.

Preston set Nov. 7 for a preliminary examination.

Police said the infants were stabbed a short time after they were born last Thursday in Miss Noyes' south side home. The surviving child is in good condition.

The woman's mother, Mrs. Gladys O. Noyes was free in $2,500 bail as a material witness. William Pearson, 43, formerly of Joliet, Ill., also arraigned as a material witness, was being held in $10,000 bail.

Pearson originally was identified as Miss Noyes' husband, but he later said they were not married.

He has a wife and 19-year-old son in Joliet. His wife, Mrs. Lucia, 40, said a divorce suit was pending.

Hornell Rejects Move to Abolish Elective Office

HORNELL, N. Y. (AP)—A thin turnout of voters in this city of 15,000 population has rejected a proposal to abolish the elective office of welfare commissioner.

The vote Monday was 161 to 97. City officials estimated 10,000 persons were eligible to vote.

Milo Waldorf resigned as welfare commissioner last spring.

Mrs. Irene Kios was appointed to fill out Waldorf's term which ends Dec. 31. Mayor Frank F. Wolfinger volunteered to take over the commissioner's duty with the aid of a stenographer, thus eliminating the post of commissioner that had paid $4,150 annually.

City Attorney Henry R. Burke said the job could be abolished only by vote.

Election officials, confident the proposal would be approved, have made no provision for filling the post at the Nov. 4 general election.

Relyeas Seeking Damages for Fall

Alice Relyea and her husband, Frank Relyea, of Kerhonkson are seeking damages from Edward Davenport of Wawarsing for injuries which Mrs. Relyea received on May 31, 1956, when she alleges the covering to an outside cellar entrance gave way when she leaned over to pick up clothespins.

Mrs. Relyea testified in Supreme Court that she had taken rugs from the clothesline and had gone outside to recover some clothespins which had dropped.

As she rested her weight on the cellar entrance covering to pick up pins, it gave way and she was thrown to the bottom of the outside cellar steps.

It is alleged the outside cellar entrance had not been maintained in a safe manner and that Davenport, owner of the house, was negligent in maintaining the cover.

Mrs. Relyea alleges she suffered severe injury to her upper back and neck. In 1948 she injured her back while employed at a bakery in Newburgh. This injury she alleges was to the lower back and, except when she was doing heavy work, no longer bothered her. Defense contends that the injury in 1956 aggravated the old injury and that she had not fully recovered from the 195

Must President Be Full-Time Politician? Nov. 4 Vote May Provide Answer to Question

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower stays pretty much aloof from politics and name-calling most of the time and then suddenly cuts loose with a slashing attack on the Democrats during a political campaign.

That's one of the differences between him and former President Truman, who was a full-time politician. So, although other factors are involved, the Nov. 4 elections may provide some part of the answer to this question:

Does a president have to play politics full-time to be effective as the political head of his party?

HST Year-Round Blaster
Truman, as president and head of the Democrats, belabored Republicans the year around, naming names, banging away as the mood seized him, which was often. But at least he built up in the public mind an image of Republican obstructionism.

So he was completely consistent when, as the odds-on favorite to lose in the 1948 presidential campaign, he gave the Republicans a whistle-stop ripping across the country and back again.

That year the Republicans controlled Congress and Truman never let the country forget it. He branded them as the "do-nothing Congress." He not only won election for himself but could claim credit for helping the Democrats win too.

Not so with Eisenhower. Although he's political head of the Republicans, he takes pretty much an above-the-strife attitude between election campaigns. If he hasn't liked what the Democrats did in Congress—and they've controlled it since 1954—he's had plenty of chance to keep up a drumfire against them the year around.

Be Quite Careful
But he's been very careful—between campaigns—not to offend anyone. He had good reason, of course, since 1954 to be careful not to bang too hard on the Democrats.

He has had to depend on them to help put through his programs when some of his own Republicans turned their backs on him.

But now suddenly in this congressional campaign, as in the congressional campaign of 1954, he becomes very political-minded and goes after the Democrats with a hot spear.

This campaign probably will provide the last of extreme anti-Democratic talk from Eisenhower, unless he can be persuaded to take to the road just once more in the 1960 campaign. He goes out of office two years from now.

Newspaper surveys and professional polls indicate that this year—just as in 1954 when Eisenhower campaigned for them—the Republicans once more are trailing the Democrats for control of Congress.

May Not Be Enough
Since the voters' minds may be already made up in favor of the Democrats, Eisenhower's late efforts to save the Republicans may not be enough.

For that reason it will be impossible after election day to say flatly just how effective—or ineffective—he was.

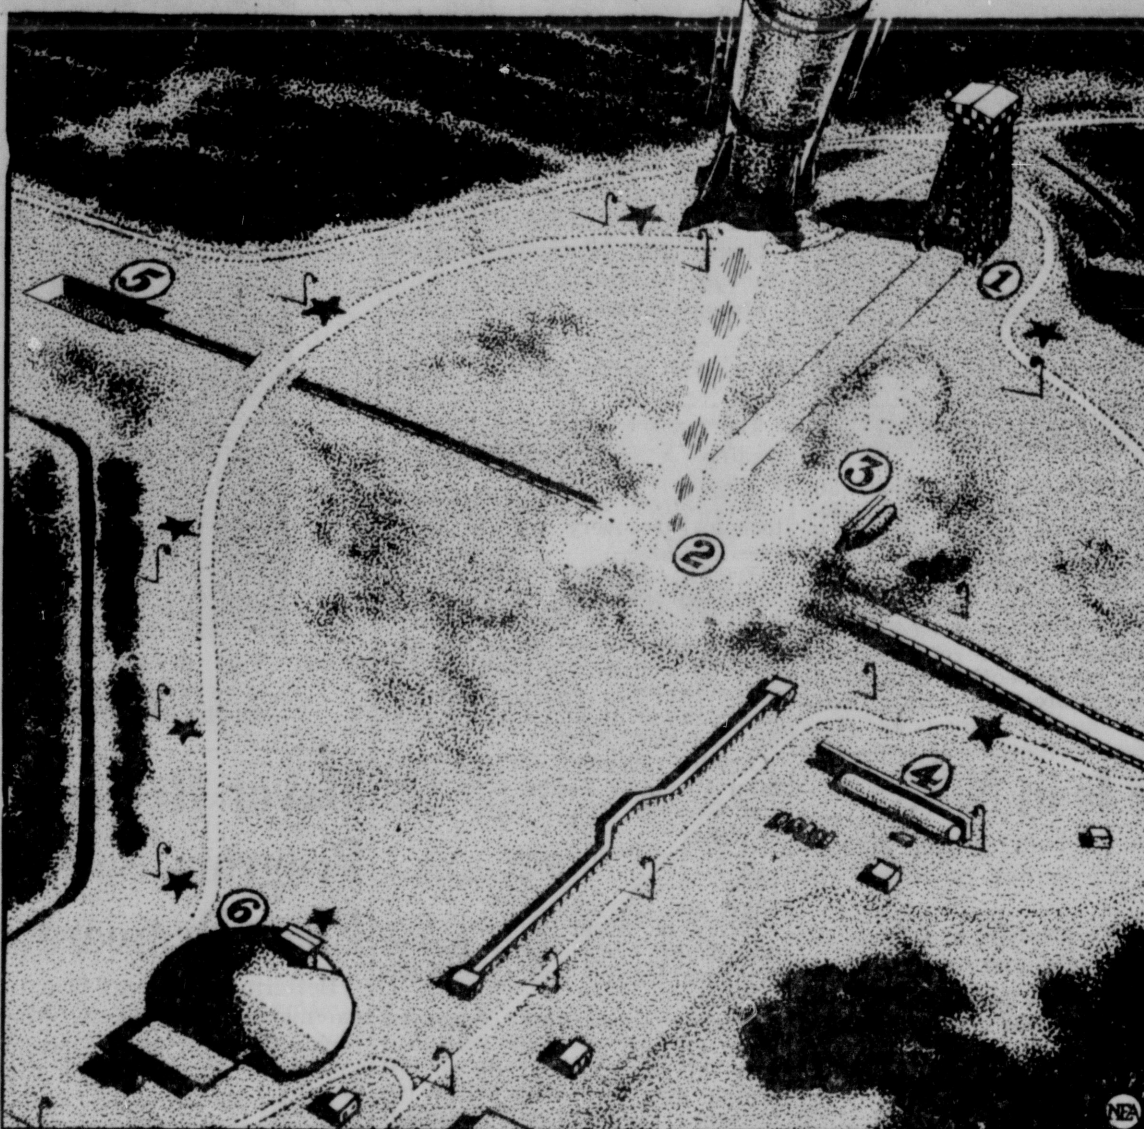

But one thing is sure, even if Eisenhower as political head of the Republicans can't save them for defeat: he's been a highly effective politician where he himself has been concerned. Meaning: when he sought election for himself.

His very nonpolitical tactics—between campaigns—have helped build up in the public mind the image of a man standing above the name-calling of politics and interested primarily in the country as a whole, regardless of party.

He won overwhelmingly in 1952, carrying his party along with him to control of Congress. That was the last time. By 1954 the voters were making a big distinction between him and his party.

In 1956 they re-elected him to the presidency but left Congress in control of the Democrats.

My Sworn Duty To Reveal Facts Declares Koenig

Joseph J. Koenig, Democratic candidate for the office of county treasurer, has issued the following statement to The Freeman in answer to charges made by Charles Relyea, chairman of the Board of Supervisors:

In your issue of Wednesday, October 22, there appeared a story attributed to Charles Relyea, Chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, characterizing my appearance before that Board as a "political appeal for the bankers vote." He also is quoted as having stated that the facts I presented at that meeting having to do with the improper and illegal deposit of excessive funds in one favored Kingston bank were erroneous.

Let me say, that my appearance before the legislative body of our County Government was inspired only by what I considered my sworn duty as a county official, reporting what was then and had been for years past an illegal and extremely dangerous practice.

As to the truth of the illegal procedure revealed by me to the county legislators, I will welcome the public to examine the official records and see for themselves.

In a characteristic and typical effort to play down this serious practice and situation, Mr. Relyea resorts to the old trick of attempting to confuse the public on matters which he can't explain to the public. He attributes the illegal and exorbitant deposits to this favored bank as being caused by the periodic deposit of large State checks for clearance purposes. The official county records show that if these checks from the state were never deposited in this favored bank, the balance at certain statement periods would be in excess of the maximum amount permitted by law and far in excess of the collateral protection put up by the bank.

I give an example: Bank balance in one bank on a certain date $2,855,797.03.

Authorized by Board of Supervisors to have on deposit in said bank $1,250,000.00.

Amount of School check received in that month $1,557,402.27.

Amount of collateral to cover deposits in that bank $700,000.00.

Mr. Relyea makes much of the fact that both Federal and State agencies having to do with the examination of fiscal policies and procedures have not seen fit to criticize the practice.

Let me remind him—if such be necessary—that such agencies (while under the control of both major political parties) also examined the records of the Home National Bank of Ellenville. What happened to that supposedly fine banking institution made national news of a kind the public might like to forget—but which fiscal officers entrusted with public funds MUST NEVER FORGET.

I can assure the people of Ulster County that so long as I am responsible for the safe-keeping of their money I will never permit one cent of it to be in danger of loss through any means or manner.

During the course of reviewing the county books on finance, I discovered that an illegal and dangerous situation existed. County funds were deposited primarily in one Kingston bank, in excess of the legal limits and further more these funds were in danger of being lost to the county because they were not secured with sufficient collateral. It became apparent to me that immediate action was necessary to get back within the law and to eliminate a bad business practice of not having the county funds secured by sufficient collateral.

I made my recommendation to the Board of Supervisors since this is the governing body of our county and it was my duty to make this report so that they would be apprized of the facts. It was apparent to all the supervisors present that my timely action was necessary and proper. Mr. Relyea for obvious reasons—he is a Republican—immediately took a defensive position and deliberately tried to hide this unsound business practice, a practice that has been going on for many years, by claiming it was a political move on my part.

As to Mr. Relyea's remark about my not reading the Department of Audit and Control report—if he had stopped in my office when he was in the building he would have learned that I did read the report the first week I was in office, and he also would have learned that I had written to the State Department of Audit and Control requesting a formal interview as soon as possible with representatives of that department in an effort to agree on a definite procedure which will permanently insure the safety of all county funds.

It is true that I am the Democratic candidate for County Treasurer; it is true that this revelation might be an asset in my campaign; it is true that the bankers throughout the county favor my action and disapprove strongly of the former practice; but—and this is the important fact—it is true that these deposits were both illegal and dangerous to all of the people of Ulster County.

I would not be qualified for the office of County Treasurer if I had suppressed the truth and left uncorrected glaring violations of both the law and sound business practices.

Russian Language Classes Planned At Kingston YMCA

DANIEL S. BOBROW
Classes in the Russian language, for beginners and advanced students, are being made available to interested area residents, it was announced today.

Interested persons may register or inquire about the classes from 8 to 10 p. m. Monday through Friday next week, Nov. 3-7, at the YMCA, 507 Broadway.

Bobrow, a "native teacher," said that five different classes in the language have been organized in Dutchess County.

There is an increasing emphasis on the study of Russian, he said. Such study is being encouraged by the federal government and educators throughout the country. Two national television programs now carry instruction in Russian.

Bobrow called attention to the importance of such a study, pointing out that the Russians know English much better than we know Russian and that study of Russian has been sorely neglected in this country.

The class is open to men and women. Fee will depend on the number of persons enrolling. The number of class meetings each week—one or two—will be decided by the wishes of the class.

Bobrow said the instruction would emphasize systematic, pedagogical bases of the language. He stressed the point that the language is not difficult to learn: "Anybody can learn it," he told The Freeman.

Sabrejet Rocket

the practice version of the atomic missile Genie, the 465th Fighter Interceptor Squadron from Griffis AFB, N. Y., was in the lead and each team had two more missions yet to fly.

Leading among four Convair F102 teams firing Falcon rockets, each with a single mission remaining, was the 326th Squadron from Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo.

The competition in which the championship was decided Monday was that involving the North American F86 all-weather interceptor, a modernized version of the F84D. These planes fired the four-foot long, 2.75-inch diameter Mighty Mouse rocket in salvo.

How Scoring Is Done
In the scoring, each team gets 6,500 points if the first plane—that of the team captain—hits the target or passes within 15 feet of it.

If the first man misses and the second hits, the score is 6,400 points and if only the third scores, 6,300 points are awarded. In addition, if all three planes fly the assigned mission, the team gets 300 points.

Since not one of the F86's of any of the teams has yet failed to fly its mission, the scoreboard is filled with 300s.

BISHOP, Va. (AP)—Tears rolled down the little old lady's face as she huddled in a corner of the crowded mine office here—oblivious of the swirl of human activity about her.

"They carried my husband home many years ago . . . and my boy . . . but all my life has been spent in the coal fields and what time I have left will be spent here."

Daughter-in-Law Dazed
Mrs. Ada Turner, 72, was speaking. Words, though, did nothing to comfort her sobbing daughter-in-law, who sat dazed nearby.

To Ethel Sutherland, 36, the importance of the moment lay in the fact that her husband Holiday, 46—Mrs. Turner's son—was somewhere below in an explosion-wrecked mine with 21 other ill-fated miners.

"This is all so familiar," Mrs. Turner cried. "My life seems to have been filled with troubles."

"I can't go home now, the house is empty," the young wife said. "I had never seen him like this before."

Mrs. Turner's husband died on Thanksgiving Day, 1926, in a slate fall at nearby Amonate mine. Alone, she had raised her 10 children.

Another Son Bedridden
Two other sons besides Holiday are dead from the mines. Silicosis, dread mining disease of the lungs, killed them. Another son now is bedridden from the same disease.

"When my boy left home last night, I walked to the car with him," Mrs. Turner said. "It seemed he didn't want to leave. I had never seen him like this before."

He asked me to go over to his place . . . spend a few days with the children. But it was raining and I had things to do at my own house. Now I'm sorry I didn't go."

Ethel started crying again, Mrs. Turner helped her to her feet and said softly: "Now we must go home and make ready for another body."

Angelo Cardinal
chimney of the stove in the Sistine Chapel Monday night signaled that no choice had been made. With four daily ballots originally planned and the voting under way since Sunday morning, it was assumed that eight ballots had been held up to that time.

Secrecy Surrounds Vote
Tight secrecy surrounded the deliberations in the barricaded, double locked and tightly guarded Vatican apartments where the cardinals were confined until they reached a decision. Only the daily smoke signals—two Sunday and two Monday—gave indication of the progress of voting.

The ballots normally are burned after every second vote. White smoke, supposed to result from the burning of the paper ballots alone, signals election of a pontiff. Wet straw traditionally is mixed with the paper to give black smoke, the signal for failure to elect.

System Breaks Down
The system broke down Sunday, when white smoke came out and touched off false reports that a prelate had been named. Monday a far by-product was mixed with the ballots. Black smoke resulted.

Rumors circulated that one or more of the aged cardinals was ill in the drafty, stone-floored concave apartments. There was particular apprehension about Nicola Cardinal Canali, 84-year-old member of the Vatican's top administration who suffers from a heart ailment. The Italian radio said it had been authoritatively denied that he had suffered a stroke or heart attack.

State Grange Head
sit idly by and let our hired men in Albany, the senators and assemblymen, run the show or are we going to take definite stands in some instances?"

Smith said three housing propositions on the Nov. 4 ballot would, if approved, raise to $1,135,000 the amount authorized by the state for government-financed housing.

Urges Careful Study
He said the irrefutable fact was felt by taxpayers whether the proposals were for subsidies or for local tax exemptions.

Smith said he was not telling numbers how to vote, but urged them to give the propositions careful study.

The Grange master appealed for strengthening the position of the family farm.

"Otherwise," he declared, "we will be losing one of our greatest moral assets, both in agriculture and the nation."

Guam Postpones First Weather Probe Rocket
GUAM (AP)—Firing of the first Guam-based weather probe rocket into space was postponed today until next week because of "damp" weather.

There was no explanation of how damp weather affected the mechanism.

Ten U.S. scientists have been working on the project for several weeks.

The rocket, a combination Nike-Cajun, is to be fired aloft to obtain wind and temperature data between 30,000 and 300,000 feet above the earth.

Investor Forum Harry C. France

To thousands of investors the stock market is a grab-bag. Values of a hundred varieties and qualities are bought and sold without due consideration of their true worth. Often they are purchased in a reckless spirit and if a quick profit is not achieved, somebody is blamed.

This grab-bag speculative philosophy is aided and abetted by scores of services which, for a few dollars, will tell investors what the stock market is going to do. Such advice sets up false standards. There is no one who can accurately predict what the stock market will do. Yes, occasionally someone guesses right, and a great ado is made of it. But the psychological, social, economic and political foundations of the national economy make stock-price prognostications dangerous.

Initiating new investors into the stock market involves great responsibilities. If an equity neophyte has his stock advance sharply in price after his first purchases, it is usually unfortunate. For then he is apt always to look for quick profits. And if his newly-acquired shares depreciate quickly, frequently he is completely disillusioned.

Gyrating stock prices can form habits. Falling prices can sour inexperienced stockholders on the capitalistic system. Advancing prices can produce an inveterate speculator. It is far better for a new stock holder to buy a conservative stock whose price fluctuations are narrow than a speculative equity which may go down or up 10 points in a hurry.

The common stocks of the best American enterprises that are actively traded on the leading exchanges are those of corporations whose books and records are carefully audited by independent firms. Rigid rules are followed in these audits and examinations.

As a result, when these accounting firms hand down their independent profit and loss figures, careful investors have something to go by. The study of a 10 to 25 year period of the net earnings of any corporation can be an excellent guide to intelligent common stock investment.

A sound stock is selling at $20 a share and the annual dividend of $1 a share is well-covered, an investor can get a 5 per cent yield. If a stock sells for around $33 a share and pays $2 a share, the investor can get 6 per cent on his dollars.

There is no excuse whatever for an investor to employ a grab-bag philosophy in buying common stocks. Furthermore, there is no need to pay to get the dependable information that prudent common stock investment requires.

In banks and brokerage offices throughout America, data on earnings and dividends are available to careful investors.

Grab-bag investments can become very confusing. Where it is, investors are usually bent on achieving a quick profit. And values that may advance quickly in price can also tumble rapidly in price.

Sound investment requires thorough study, infinite patience and economic perspective. And in these uncertain days when there are so many conflicting cross-currents, the underlying forces that produce earnings and dividends should be carefully studied.

Bank, utility, food, oil and chemical equities are, for example, five of the steady values that can be bought by investors who must avoid stocks of cyclical character.

But, to return to the earlier theme: the policy of buying common stocks by hearsay and gossip should always be avoided. Accurate statistics with their true interpretation should always characterize investment procedures.

Matter of FACT
During seven generations, the Bach family of Weimar, Thuringia, produced 40 musicians of whom Johann Sebastian Bach is the most famous. His fame did not come until almost 100 years after his death, however. Until then he was remembered, if at all, merely as a church organist. Then Felix Mendelssohn and other musicians of the 19th century discovered his many compositions. Today Bach is hailed as the composer who brought religious music to its highest artistic point.

today and will remain in New York City instead. No reason was given.

To Remain in City
Harriman's rent control statement brought quick retort from Rockefeller, who said the statement indicated the governor was showing signs of panic.

"I stand unequivocally in favor of continuing the state residential rent control law, for action to close any and all loopholes in the present law and for vigorous and fair administration of the rent control law," Rockefeller said.

In a filmed television talk Monday night, Rockefeller continued to accuse Harriman of evading state issues and challenged the governor's labor record.

"I don't think of a labor record," Rockefeller said, and he added that Harriman "has stood by and watched factories move away from New York, taking thousands of jobs with them."

Keating campaigned on Long Island Monday. He told a Suffolk County Republican rally at Commack that Tammany Hall would gain control of the Manhattan district attorney's office if the prosecutor, Frank Hogan, is elected to the Senate.

"To return political influence from as notorious a source as Tammany Hall to the district attorney's office in New York County would be to set back the drive against organized crime in this state and nation for many years," Keating said.

Regrets Not Having Talk
Hogan, the Democratic senatorial candidate, received a campaign boost Monday from Sen. Theodore Green (D-R).

Green, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, said he was impressed with Hogan's "grasp of the present international situation" and he praised Hogan for "his penetrating insight into current problems and his seasoned judgment."

Hogan was asked if he was disappointed with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's statement that she was undecided if she would vote for Hogan and that she thought the Democratic party could have had a nominee who knew more about foreign policy.

Boost for Hogan
"I have great respect for Mrs. Roosevelt," Hogan replied. "And I regret that I had not had the opportunity to talk with her."

Hogan Monday night ripped into Eisenhower's recent campaign speeches. He called them "almost hysterical" and said they indicated the old guard has taken over the Republican party.

Hogan told a meeting of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union that the objectives of the GOP old guard are to break unions and retreat from social reforms.

State Democratic Chairman Michael Prendergast issued a statement today claiming that Harriman will cut into normal Republican majorities in Nassau, Rockland, Suffolk and Westchester counties by a substantial margin.

Prendergast said that on the basis of an Upstate poll and the new registration figures he predicted Harriman would run 25 per cent better in those counties than he did in 1954, when he lost them by 234,000 votes.

Financial and Commercial

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market firmed in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Gainers overbalanced losers but the popular market averages were depressed slightly by some losses among key stocks, notably chemicals.

Gains and losses went from fractions to about a point.

Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts, drugs and airlines were moderately up on the upside after a ragged start.

The market was mixed in early trading. A firming tendency developed slowly.

Wall Street analysts thought a technical recovery was in progress.

Trading interest continued focused on secondary issues which have received a big play lately. Among these were American Motors, up well over a point; Studebaker-Packard, which showed a fractional gain; and Checker Motor, up about two.

Chrysler rebounded about a point from Monday's 2-point drop. Ford and General Motors were steady to higher.

U.S. Steel advanced about a point along with Youngstown Sheet and Republic Steel.

Gains of about a point were posted for New York Central, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Sinclair was about unchanged after erasing an early fractional gain. The company made an operating agreement with British Petroleum. International Business Machines rose three points on declaration of the usual cash and stock dividends.

Losses of about a point were taken by Du Pont, American Cyanamid and Allied Chemical. Up about a point were Amerasia, Boeing, Pfizer and Artform.

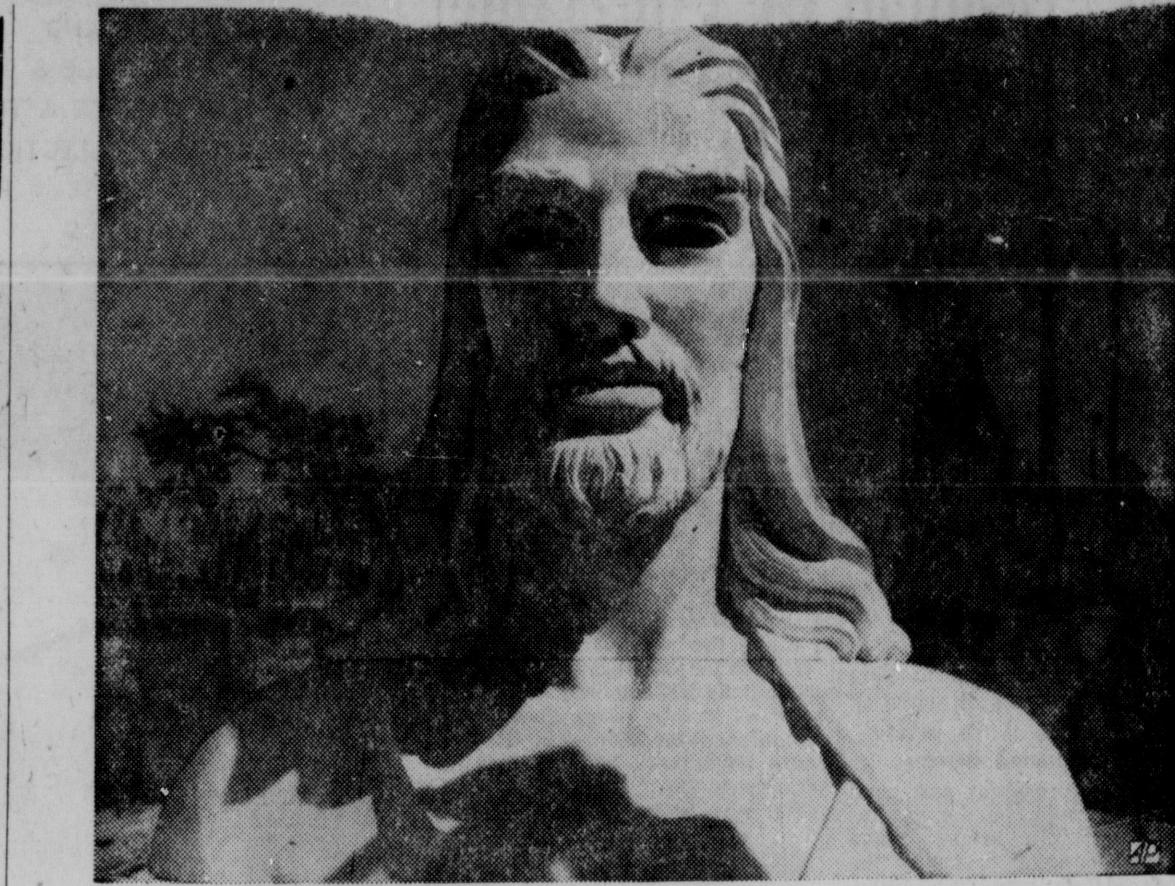

U.S. Treasury bonds rose.

Mayor Reviews Program, Says Elect Democrats

Betterment of the police department and an effective street-repair program were stressed in a recent talk by Mayor Edwin F. Radel as top among achievements of his administration, to date.

The mayor addressed a meeting of the Democratic Club in the White Eagle Hall, which attracted an attendance estimated at more than 200.

Avers 10 Months
In reviewing his 10 months in office, the mayor cited as "first and foremost," the "far-reaching and efficient street-repair and rebuilding program, which saw considerable work done in each of the 13 wards. This is a tangible item visible to all who use our streets daily."

Then he mentioned "the remodeling, modernization and enlargement of both the physical layout and working force of the police department. I have stated many times that, if in my term of office, no other thing were accomplished, I would be most proud of this achievement."

Points to Lights
Also, he said, "a far-reaching, and long needed modernization of our traffic control system has been started, and tremendous progress is visible all over our city in the new three-section traffic lights replacing the old, and inadequate two-section lights."

In the 10 months, he said, he labored "under the most adverse conditions created by political sharpshooters, who put the interest of their party above the welfare of the people. I have striven to give our city the best, most honest, sincere and impartial representation within my power to give."

Urges Support
The mayor urged support of all candidates on the Democratic ticket; John J. Schick, district attorney; Joseph J. Koenig, county treasurer; Christopher Morris, congressman; Harriet Allen Kerr, state senator; John J. Gaffney, assemblyman; John J. McCourt, justice of the Supreme Court, and Dr. J. R. Moss, coroner.

Another main address was given by William T. Mahoney, Democratic city chairman. County Chairman William A. Kelly also attended, and Patrick T. Murphy of Kingston was introduced as "Mr. Democrat of Ulster County."

Both men's and women's club groups attended, and Orrie R. Riehl, president of the Men's Democratic Club, presided. Candidates for the November election talked briefly.

Saratoga Landmark Destroyed by Fire

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—A building more than 100 years old that housed the Eureka Park sulphur and mud bath was destroyed by fire today.

The cause of the fire in the one-story, frame structure was not determined.

Fire Capt. Joseph Righe said the building, a landmark near the city's eastern outskirts, had been vacated for the winter.

Firemen battled the flames for three and a half hours. No one was injured.

There was no immediate estimate of the loss. The building was owned by the Eureka Park Holding Co., which is headed by Mrs. Anna Warren.

Boy's Condition Is Good Today, Shot on Sunday

The condition of Alfonso Sisca, 12, of New York City, who was accidentally shot with a .22 calibre rifle in a wooded section in Pine Grove near Saugerties early Sunday afternoon, was reported as "good" by Benedictine Hospital authorities this morning.

This was a considerable gain over Monday morning when he was reported as serious.

Sisca was target practicing with a friend Nicholas Visconti, 14, of the Bronx, at the time of the mishap, firing at old phonograph records and stumps.

As they were leaving the woods Sisca was about five feet ahead of his companion when Visconti stumbled and fell, his rifle discharging. The bullet entered Sisca's back and issued from his right breast.

He was rushed to Dr. B. M. Gifford of Saugerties for emergency treatment, thence by ambulance to the hospital.

Ayub Takes Over As Pakistan Ruler

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan ruled Pakistan today in name as well as in fact.

President Iskander Mirza resigned Monday night and handed over all his powers to Ayub, the former army commander in chief with whom he had joined Oct. 7 in a peaceful military revolution that abolished all semblance of democratic government.

Earlier Monday Ayub had been sworn in as premier, heading a cabinet of three other military men and eight civilians. He will continue to govern under martial law.

Mirza said he stepped aside to give Ayub a free hand in revitalizing Pakistan's governmental structure and to end an "unfortunate impression" at home and abroad that he and Ayub "may not always act in unison."

Charging that politicians had made a mess of running Pakistan, Mirza and Ayub on Oct. 7 overthrew the Cabinet of Premier Feroz Khan Noon, declared martial law, abrogated the constitution, abolished the National Assembly and opened a campaign against corruption in government, profiteering and black marketing.

The army and apparently most of the population supported them, and there has been no violence.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Tom Walsh of 37 Boulevard brought me no end of interesting material about museums and old cars. Remember when the Glidden tour of old cars came through Kingston, I know I saw it once and perhaps twice, and have seen the old cars from time to time as they made their way through Kingston to meet up with others elsewhere. It has come to pass that today a good antique car in excellent condition may be worth more than a new car. You can buy a new car at anytime, but an antique car is a rare item, even for money you cannot get what you want. Often once a person owns an antique car, it becomes part of him and he will go broke before he will sell it. The old cars have personalities, they say.

Those who have seen any part of the famous Glidden tour, may be interested in their 1958 tour through New England. It is over now. It went on between Sept. 7 and 13. Under "Eligibility" they write: "The Glidden and National Tours are open only to active members and their families of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America and our sister clubs, The Antique Automobile Club and The Horseless Carriage Club. Only cars up to and including 1929 may be entered. Every car should be carefully inspected for mechanical condition including tires, wheels, brakes, steering, horn, lights. Tour cars are expected to have suitable public liability and property damage insurance. Each car must be registered with proper plates of the state of the owner. Trailer may be used to carry four cars and from the tour but cars must be driven from Bretton Woods to Newcastle and to Brookline under their own power."

Another illustrated pamphlet called "8th Annual Old Car Festival" was dated for Sunday, Sept. 7, 1958 seems to be one of a series of special events held each year as part of the educational program of the Henry Ford Museum and the famous Greenfield Village, housing restored shops and stores. The old car festival is limited to 250 cars. Only cars owned by members of the VMCA, AACA and

Bad Overcall Brings Grief

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The unsound vulnerable overcall is likely to prove a one-way ticket to the poorhouse. Even a super-sound one may prove expensive when partner shows up with nothing.

East did not really have an opening bid. South's two-heart overcall would meet the most exacting standards and West really had a poor double, yet when the smoke had cleared away South was down two tricks.

The defense was simple but interesting. West opened his king of spades. South won the trick and led the ten of hearts. East took the ace and after a lot of thought played the king of clubs. When West dropped the deuce, East was sure that his partner had opened a singleton spade. Hence, he gave him a spade ruff.

West made a very safe play. He cashed his ace of clubs and South overruled. Now there was no way for South to avoid the loss of three diamond tricks.

From South's standpoint the

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Children Must Be Taught Realities — Even Harsh Ones

Frank J.'s parents wanted him to "make something of himself" before marrying and saddling himself with family obligations.

So they were upset when he married soon after getting his first job. However, when they learned his wife was keeping hers, they felt a little better. The relief was short-lived. She became pregnant and had to resign her job. In the bosom of her family, Frank's discouraged mother said over and over, "Poor boy, to be burdened like this before he'd had a chance to make something of himself."

Today her daughter, Lila shows intense dislike of Frank's oldest child.

If, at family gatherings, Frank's daughter, Josie, doesn't finish her pudding, Aunt Lila says "Waste not, want not." If Josie cries because another child has called her a bad name, Aunt Lila says, "What a little waterworks you are." If Josie shoves her brother away from her comic book, Aunt Lila cautions, "Jealousy like that should be nipped in the bud."

Josie never mentions this persecution by Aunt Lila. For the only time she did her mother said, "Shush, Aunt Lila loves you. It's just her way, dear." Children always have been the targets of the previous generation's unsolved hates. However, I can't see any reason why it has to continue indefinitely.

Though parents may wish to entertain relatives like Aunt Lila, they are not obliged to present them as trustworthy people to Josie. Family life is a child's preview of life in the world he's come to. It is an important demonstration of the fact that hateful human beings exist as well as kindly ones. To tell Josie that she is loved by Aunt Lila who criticizes and persecutes her is to deprive her of her own awareness of reality—and send her into the world with trustful expectations of the wolves in it.

I do not know why parents are so anxious to make children believe that everybody loves them.

A mother deer does not pooh-pooh her fawn's instinctively healthy recoil from a wolf. She does not say, "Shush. The thing with the teeth loves you. Snarling at you is just his way, dear."

Cost of New Drugs Based On More Than Chemicals

BY FAYE HENLE

In the months ahead, two things will probably happen to you:

First: Either you, or some member of your family, will be laid low. In all probability, you or yours will be cured in a relatively short space of time by a drug that did not exist 10 years ago.

Second: You will be reading in your paper of a legal battle between six leading drug companies and the Federal Trade Commission.

The government's complaint is monopoly and price-fixing of certain antibiotics plus a false patent deal. Heated charges will be made on both sides.

The drug industry's profits, which have been good, will come under attack. Basic issues may be aired on changes in the patent law. One certainty we can promise: Our free enterprise system as it is practiced in the fiercely competitive drug industry will be thoroughly aired.

If simultaneous with these hearings you are confronted with a big bill from your pharmacist, it will be only human for you to applaud the charges against the drug makers. But before you applaud too warmly, give a backward glance into the era before "wonder drugs."

What did an average pneumonia case cost 20 years ago? Some $300 to $400 for hospitalized care. The average time lost from work was five weeks. To two after you've paid for a visit or two from your doctor, some $15 to $20 worth of drugs should get you back on the job in less than two weeks!

I've watched my small daughter's fever drop from a burning 105 degrees to normal in less than seven hours. Several of the nation's major TB sanitariums have been emptied and closed because of new drug discoveries. Also thousands of mental patients have been aided.

When you pay for the pill that will relieve your pain and cure your illness, should you expect to pay simply for a few chemicals? No. Here are the things the drugmakers must consider in pricing your medicine:

The size of their market. The cure for the rare illness must be researched and developed along with the remedy for the common cold that will be consumed by the millions.

Competition: One company develops a cure, yet how long will it be before another company comes forth with an equally good or better remedy?

The life span of a drug: Today it is perilously short—scarcely five years is the estimate. Companies are causing the obsolescence of their own products via their own research. Last year the drug industry spent 125 million dollars on research, or eight cents out of every dollar of sales. This research must be supported and its cost cannot be allocated proportionally according to any known formula to any one drug or discovery. Actually, only one-quarter of all new drug products made by the industry return a profit.

The testing and marketing of a new product: For the average new drug, two to 10 years are needed to determine its safety and usefulness between the date of discovery and the time it reaches your druggist's shelf. Because of the tremendous speed with which new drugs are being perfected, the industry must spend heavily to educate its small market, the 130,000 physicians who pen your prescription.

Youths Say They Attacked, Robbed Woman on Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Two youths visiting an elderly Bronx woman Monday choked her into unconsciousness and took $100 from her apartment, police reported.

The woman, Mrs. Anna Saltzman, 68, was treated by a private physician at her apartment in which she lives alone.

Police said a 15-year-old boy, whose family Mrs. Saltzman has known for several years, and Juan Sanchez, 16, Manhattan, admitted the attack and robbery.

A third youth, Stephen Ulbrich, 16, of The Bronx, was identified by police as one who helped plan the robbery, although he did not take part.

Detectives said the two youths visited Mrs. Saltzman for about 20 minutes before Sanchez held her and the 15-year-old youth choked her with his necktie, then took the $100 and escaped.

Police reported finding a total of $100 on the three youths. The 15-year-old, whose name was not revealed because of his age, was charged with juvenile delinquency. The others were charged with robbery.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Conrad Heilman, 62, a carpenter was killed Monday when he fell from a ladder while putting up storm windows.

Carey Insists Debate Should Be in Albany

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey has rejected a second proposal that he travel to the North Country for a campaign debate. He says that any such debate should be in Albany. Republican Assemblyman Robert G. Main of Malone challenged the Democratic commissioner to debate on state agriculture policies.

Main originally proposed a radio debate in Malone. Carey refused. Main then suggested that it be televised over a Plattsburgh station.

In a reply Monday to the new proposal, Carey repeated his stand that he would consent only to Albany as a site. Main has said that he was too busy campaigning for re-election to come to Albany. Carey wrote him:

"I too am very busy, and since you have time to go out of your own assembly district (to Plattsburgh). . . I see no reason for your not coming to Albany."

CD Establishes Psychological First Aid Course

The New York State Civil Defense Commission today announced a program for training instructors in psychological first aid. The program, which will get under way today, plans the training of civil defense workers in every target area in the state, to help disturbed persons in such emergencies as enemy attack or natural disaster. The program has for its over-all objective the prevention of mass panic.

Slated in December

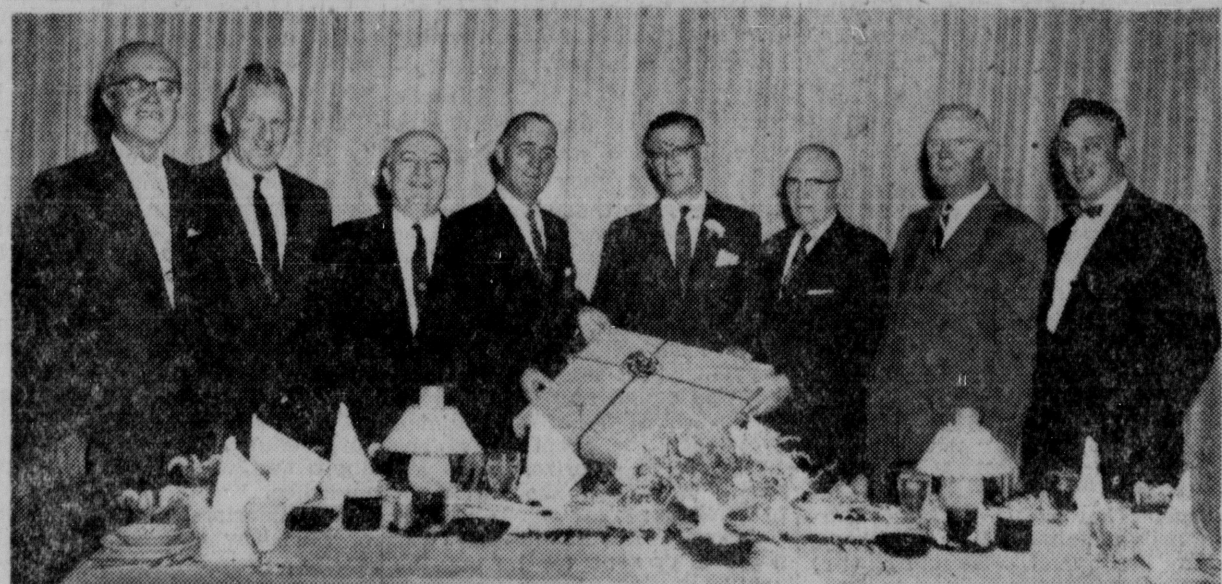

Local classes for Newburgh Sub-District of New York City Support Area will be held December 2 at 7:30 p. m. in Ulster County courthouse, 285 Wall Street.

Lt. General C. R. Huebner, state civil defense director, said Civil Defense leaders, national, state and local, have expressed concern about the possible psychological effects of the circumstances of disaster, natural or man-made, on individuals, whether civilians or civil defense workers, themselves. Accordingly, training materials have been prepared by the Medical Defense Office of the State Department of Health, based on the findings of a civil defense committee of the American Psychiatric Association.

General Huebner said the course is intended to teach people how to avert panic by showing them how to help persons. The course is not meant to train civil defense workers on the care of seriously disturbed psychopathic personalities, except to remove them to a safe place if they are hindering civil defense operations.

To Train Small Corps

In the target area training sessions it is planned to train a

MASON SITS IT OUT—Francis J. Cucco of 67 Van Buren Street, known in local musical circles as "Chubby" Mason, won himself a 1951 four-door sedan for 99 cents on Saturday by remaining behind the wheel for 56 consecutive hours. At 3 p. m. Saturday, the deadline, with a throng of friends and interested persons standing by, "Chubby" emerged from the car, dropped 99 cents in change into the hand of Ephraim Fropp, manager of the Kingston Buick Co. Inc., used car lot, Albany Avenue extension, and received an order for the car. He entered the vehicle at 7 a. m. Thursday. As he got out of the car, slowly and painfully stretching his legs, Mason was asked if he was tired. "Ooohhh! he said, meaning yes. "Are your legs kind of cramped?" "I'll say!" was the reply. Mason is a saxophone and bass player with the Quintones Orchestra at the Tropical Inn, Port Ewen. Mason saved himself $244.01 on the car, which was priced in the market at $245. (Freeman photo)

Fear can be mastered by Christian Science

Fear in some form is the foe we all have to conquer—fear of sickness, lack of future, old age or loneliness. There are many doors through which fear tries to enter.

Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy has shown countless thousands how to overcome fear. It does so, not in terms of human psychology, but of spiritual understanding, as the Bible teaches.

For Science and Health shows what God really is, and how anyone can find and feel his God-given freedom in every need.

Twins Tell of Double Trouble In New Publication

By DOROTHY ROE
(AP) Women's Editor

Beauty can be a handicap—and when it is shared by twins, it may mean double trouble. That is the conclusion of two of the most famous American beauties of our times—Gloria Vanderbilt and Thelma Lady Furness, twin daughters of Harry Hays Morgan, an American career diplomat.

After having dazzled international society for more than a quarter of a century, the sisters, both widowed, now live quietly in a New York apartment and are partners in a perfume business. "We're happy," says Lady Furness. "The tumult and the shouting are over. We haven't much money, but we don't need much."

The twins, as identical as in their debutante days, invited a few members of the press to luncheon the other day, celebrating the publication of their joint autobiography, "Double Exposure."

"Gloria wrote part of it and I wrote part," explained Lady Furness.

The twin biography is a candid and sometimes barbed recital of their tempestuous lives, which included royal romances and sensational tragedies.

Thelma discusses with objective candor her many romances, including her love for the Prince of Wales, for whom she broke up her marriage with Lord Furness, although they were never divorced. Her account of her many visits with the Prince at Fort Belvedere, yachting trips and African safaris in his company, reveal many heretofore unpublished anecdotes, including his first meeting with Wallis Simpson, the woman for whom he gave up his throne.

"No, I haven't seen much of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in recent years," says Thelma. "After she has read this book I doubt if Wallis would care to see me."

Right now the glamorous twins are about to set out on a tour of the country, appearing in a dozen cities to spur interest in both their perfume and their new book.

"We're business women now," says Gloria.

"Maybe we should have discovered earlier how much fun it is to work," says Thelma.

Cooking for a Crowd

Attention club members! How would you like to show the members of your group how easy it can be to plan and prepare a party and make tempting party dishes?

As we all know, churches, clubs, schools, most community groups are looking forward to the annual Christmas party—to raise money for needy families or to simply "make merry."

Well, there is a booklet available called, "Cooking for a Crowd." Whether you're a beginner or an old hand at party catering, you'll find it a wonderful help. It's just packed with information on how to organize committees and delegate work, to choose menus, and buy and order foods in quantity. Each step in the preparation, serving and cleaning up of the dishes is clearly described and sample time schedules are given, as an extra guide. There are even financial pointers. So if the event is to be a money-making supper you'll want to spend a little time studying this section.

In addition to all these helpful hints, "Cooking for a Crowd" includes several menu suggestions for different occasions, such as a Men's Club dinner and a Boy Scout Jamboree, and many wonderful party recipes, some designed to make 50 servings and some to make 12.

The booklet also touches on the subject of nutrition, appetite appeal, budget appeal and approved recipes.

Food for Kings

One of the recipes included is for pizza pie. Now, most everyone knows what a pizza pie is—it's a tomato and cheese pie. Of course, there is an endless variety of flavorful fillings which can be added to satisfy anyone's taste.

Two or three decades ago the pizza was almost unheard of in this country. Its origin, of course, is Italy. But it seems there's some question as to which section of the country first made it. The Neapolitans and the Sicilians both claim to have made the first pizza.

Since pizza is quite inexpensive to prepare, it's always been a dish relished by people with low incomes. But did you know that pizza has been appreciated by royalty too. Back in the middle of the 18th century Ferdinand of Bourbon, a Spanish king, chose his chef because of his excellent pizzas.

Some of the foods that can be added included salami, Italian sausage, mushrooms, anchovies, onion, black olives in addition to the wonderful mozzarella cheese.

Anyone who would like to have a copy of the pizza pie recipe may contact me and I'll forward it along to you.

Those of you who would like to obtain a copy of "Cooking for a Crowd" should look for the coupon in the December issue of Everywoman's Family Circle Magazine which, as you know, is available at the local supermarkets.

Judging from the countless numbers of suppers and banquets we announce during the course of the year, I would say there would be many, many people interested in "Cooking for a Crowd."

AHRC Invites Paltz Professor as Guest Speaker for Meeting

Dr. Jack Patten, associate professor of education at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, will be guest speaker at the opening fall meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children, scheduled for Wednesday in the library of the George Washington School at 8 p. m.

Dr. Patten will speak on the emotional implications of mental retardation and its effect upon the individual, the family and the community. "This year's program is geared not only to parent interest and needs but to the general interest and enlightenment of the public," Mrs. Robert Rolfe, program chairman, said today. In view of this, a cordial invitation to attend the opening meeting is extended to all interested persons.

Dr. Patten, a member of the New Paltz College faculty since 1956, received his AB degree from the University of Washington, Seattle, where he majored in literature and minored in mathematics. His Ed.D. degree was received from Stanford University with a major in psychology.

Previous to his appointment at New Paltz, he taught in the secondary schools in the state of Washington, and supervised adult education work. He has also served as a psychologist in the elementary schools of California, and has conducted a private practice as a children's psychologist.

Former experience has also included instructing in the U. S. Army Ordnance during World War II; teaching in the University of Washington, San Francisco State College and Stanford University. In addition to his work in the fields of education and psychology, he was previously engaged in press and radio work as well as marine engineering.

A business session will precede Dr. Patten's talk opening at 8 p. m. Reports of the chapter's activities during the summer months will be given. Plans will be formulated for a busy season of conventions, workshops, county projects on behalf of the mentally handicapped. Refreshments will be served following the meeting under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Pfeiffer, member of the AHRC Board of Directors.

HOSTESS WINS PRIZE

Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening I went to a housewares demonstration party at a neighbor's house. After the housewares were displayed and the guests ordered what they wanted, the person giving the demonstration handed each woman a slip of paper with a number on it. Duplicate numbers were put into a box and she asked one of the women to draw a number for a prize she was offering. It so happened that the hostess' number was called and she received the prize. Some of the women questioned the propriety of her accepting this prize. Will you please tell me if she was right to have done so?

Answer: If the hostess was given a present for having the party in her house, I don't think she should have accepted another prize. It would have been simple for her not to have drawn a number.

Opening the Door for Her

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is the proper way for a gentleman to hold a door open for a young lady he is with when the door opens out (away from them). Should he go through the door first and stand and hold it open for her, or merely push the door open while he remains inside, letting the lady go first?

Answer: If he can easily push the door open and hold it for her without getting in her way as she goes through, this is the simplest and correct thing to do. Otherwise she should say "Excuse me," go through the door first and hold it open for her.

Removing His Glove

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a man remove his glove to shake hands with another man?

Answer: Yes, unless it is very cold winter weather or if his glove is hard to remove and to attempt to do so would delay the handshake.

What should a girl have in her trousseau? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-5, "The Bride's Trousseau," includes a list of essential clothes and linens. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

To Speak Before Assemblage at Methodist Church

MRS. PAULINE KLUX

Mrs. Pauline Klux of New Paltz will be guest speaker at the World Community Day observance at St. James Methodist Church at 7:45 p. m. Friday, Nov. 7.

Mrs. Klux is the wife of Prof. Klux of New Paltz State Teachers College. She has resided in New Paltz for nine years. In 1956 Prof. Klux was granted a Fulbright professorship to India for a nine-month assignment as director of education seminar. Mrs. Klux and a daughter, Jean, accompanied him. Due to the nature of the assignment they were able to travel from Darjeeling to Ceylon but the greater part of the time was spent in New Delhi.

The principal portion of the program will consist of slides and a commentary by Mrs. Klux. Miss Parkast Narula of New Delhi, India, a student at the teachers college, will accompany Mrs. Klux. Miss Narula will display some of her paintings. Those bringing yardage material and yarns are asked to bring eight cents per pound for shipping purposes. Mrs. S. B. Chapell, chairman of publicity, said.

The offering will be used to enable women of the South Sea Islands to take part in community development after they are trained by "women's interest specialists" on subjects vital to that area. The offering will also be used to assist women in Pakistan, and for further support of United Church Women in its work toward peaceful world relations.

Members were urged to attend and share their gift and offering in order that World Community Day "may be a success, and pray that our gifts may not be too little—and too late."

VFW Area Meeting

The Hudson Valley Counties' Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars at Middletown VFW Post Home Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Post and Auxiliary delegates will attend.

Kiwanis Kapers Complete Sell-Out Tonight And Wednesday; Uproarious Show Is Success

"We are all sold out," is the happy refrain being sung by the ticket committee for Kiwanis Kapers now on stage at the George Washington School. The show which opened to a full house on Monday not only lived up to its reputation of being hilariously funny, but scored a financial success as well.

"The purpose of the show," George Silkworth told the audience during intermission, "is to raise funds for our scholarship project. This is an important phase of Kiwanis activities," he said.

Judging by the large audience at opening night, Kiwanis members will have to find a much larger hall next year. It would be difficult to single out any particular act for laudatory comment because the whole show was well received by the audience.

The Roarin' Twenties—theme of the show was complete with gangsters, speakeasy, movie stars, directors and flappers. Harry Maisenhelder and his orchestra provided the music. The show was concluded with a snappy Charleston contest—always popular—and the entire cast joined in a choral number for the finale.

It was evident Kiwanis members in the show were having just as wonderful a time before the footlights as the audience was having in seeing their usually conservative friends "letting their hair down."

Program for Organ Concert on Sunday Is Announced; Tickets Are Still Available

CLAIRE COCI

Program notes for the Claire Coci organ concert Sunday afternoon, 4 p. m., at Old Dutch Church, Wall and Main Streets, promise a recital of extraordinary scope and brilliance. Miss Coci comes to the local church with an eminent list of achievements both in America and Europe. She has the distinction of being the only woman ever to perform on the organ in the chapel of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Miss Coci's recital will open with her arrangement of Bach's Sinfonia "We Thank Thee, O God" (Cantata No. 29). This will be followed by a Brahms Chorale, "Deck Thyself Out, O My Soul."

Three selections by Dupre will be featured from "Suite Bretonne"; Legende; and Prelude and Fugue in G Minor.

The second group will be compositions by four modern American organists and composers: Flandria, theme and variations, dedicated to Miss Coci, by August Mackelberghe; Prayer by Paul Creston; Primavera by Seth Bingham; and Pageant written as a display piece by Leo Sowerby.

The closing selection will be Liszt's Fantasia and Fugue on the Choral "To Us for Our Salvation." This composition has been described by Saint-Saens as "the most extraordinary piece ever composed for the organ."

Miss Coci's concert in Kingston is being sponsored by the senior choir of the church and arrangement for admissions may be made with any choir member, or at the door.

The organist who is a native of New Orleans and descendant of a music loving Italian family studied with Palmer Christian at the University of Michigan and Charles Courboin in New York. She is presented in recital on coast-to-coast tours each year and concertized in Europe the season of 1955. She is returning from West coast engagements this week.

Archaeologist Tells of Dead Sea Scrolls; Affirms Value of Ancient History Studies

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

"It's an age old question whether or not to study ancient history," Dr. Ray Cleveland of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., said to me in a personal interview.

"It's a question man has asked over and over again. The answer depends upon the person asking it. How would you answer the questions: why study American history? the Civil War?"

"Most societies want to know the ways of their ancestors," Dr. Cleveland continued. "Our traditions are based upon study of mankind. Religion, primarily, is based upon ancient history, its customs, its traditions. Some societies, I admit, do not care to know about the past but it's the healthy, curious mind that probes the past seeking answers to many things," he said.

Dr. Cleveland, who during the past week was visiting his sister, Mrs. Patricia Van Gaasbeck of Rosendale, recently received his doctorate on "Near Eastern Studies" at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. Having worked as assistant to Dr. W. F. Albright, professor emeritus of Semitic Languages at the University, Dr. Cleveland is now engaged in research work in the University laboratory. He is working on fragments of sculptured objects brought back from South Arabia.

Dead Sea Scrolls
Dr. Cleveland holds the distinction of having been at the University when Dr. Albright announced the true date and value of the Dead Sea Scrolls, subject of many books and television programs since their discovery in 1947.

"When I was in Jerusalem, Jordan," Dr. Cleveland said, "I was fortunate to see those Scrolls which are now at the Palestine Archaeological Museum there. Two complete scrolls of the Book of Isaiah are at the Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel."

In discussing the Scrolls, Dr. Cleveland stated briefly that they were discovered by a Bedouin shepherd, Mohammed Dhib who, when searching for some lost sheep, found instead the scrolls inside a cave. The scrolls were in large urns. The Bedouin, realizing they must have value, sold them immediately to an antique dealer. They were brought to the attention of various persons including the late Professor Sukenik of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Israel.

Having been discovered in a cave alongside the Dead Sea—the lowest body of water on earth (1,300 feet below sea level)—the scrolls were labeled "Dead Sea Scrolls."

Paleography
When Dr. Albright received word of the scrolls, it was he who affirmed their true worth. He then accurately dated them using the science of paleography, a system where by analyzing written characters, the exact date of a text could be determined.

Value of Discovery
"The value of this tremendous

discovery," Dr. Cleveland said, "will not change the Old Testament but rather will give it a better text. The scrolls date back to the second century B.C. None of them are later than 70 Century A.D. Before their discovery, the earliest known copy of the Old Hebrew Testament was 9th Century A.D. therefore, you can see what it means to have discovered a text, written almost entirely the same as that in the 9th Century but yet is so many many more years older," Dr. Cleveland stated.

It was Dr. Cleveland's contention that the scrolls serve to emphasize the validity of the Old Testament. It also affirms the validity of the New Testament he said in that it mentions, as an example, two religious sects included in the New Testament—Pharisees and Sadducees. According to Cleveland, it also mentions a third, not included in the New Testament—the Essenes, a Jewish sect. These people lived like monks, wrote books, and literature about how they lived.

As Dr. Cleveland also stated, both biblical and non-biblical scrolls were discovered.

Walls of Jericho
As a student of archaeology, Dr. Cleveland spent a year in Jerusalem, Jordan working on the excavation of ancient Jericho.

"We never did find the Walls of Jericho," he laughed, "although we did discover a wall almost 8,000 years old." It was necessary for him to converse with the workers in Arabic, the study of which was required at the University as well as Hebrew and Greek.

Dr. Cleveland and his sister, Mrs. Van Gaasbeck, hail from San Diego, Calif., where their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. Cleveland still reside. Mrs. Van Gaasbeck is confidential secretary to Harry du Bois Frey, secretary-treasurer of The Freeman Publishing Company.

In summing up Dr. Cleveland's work and the work of many men like him, we would like to use his own words:

"Anything a person wants to know is worth knowing—and worth spending the time learning about it."

Metropolitan Opera Opens 75th Season With Puccini's Tosca; Box Office Takes $86,687

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera celebrated its 75th anniversary Monday night — and probably one of the last few opening nights in the old Broadway opera house—with an air of nostalgia and tradition hanging over it all.

The Met, which hopes to open its 1961 season uptown in a big modern auditorium in the Lincoln Center of Performing Arts, went 'way back for its 1958-59 opener.

The opening night opera was Puccini's "Tosca," first performed at the Met in 1901 and having its third airing at an opening night. Old-timers could remember Farrar, Caruso and Scott as the stars of the opening night "Tosca" in 1919, or Jeritza, Martinelli and Scotti in 1922's opening night performance.

Monday night it was Tebaldi, Del Monaco and London, no novices at helping the opera company put on a good show for the opening of its season.

Equally traditional was the performance of the opening night audience.

It was composed of diplomats, stars and former stars of the opera world, the rich and the aristocratic, and the usual sprinkling of celebrities from other parts of Broadway.

In this year of "high" fashion, when every shopgirl is wearing a new Paris look and waistslines and hems are moving into various strange places, even the fashions of Monday night's gala were amazingly traditional.

The right thing to wear to the opera still seems to be, in the elegant ball gown—satin preferred—with the waist where it belongs, the figure shown off to its best advantage and the whole picture framed by mink, ermine or chinchilla and the best display of real gems available.

Practitioners of this principle included Mrs. Rudolf Bing, wife of the Met's general manager; Mrs. Anthony Bliss; Mrs. Lorraine Manville; Mrs. August Belmont; and Mrs. Robert Merrill, wife of the baritone.

One new fashion emphasis appeared to be the floor-length sheath-straight satin or brocade coat often matching the gown underneath it.

As for the opera, its classic melodrama appeared to please everyone.

Associated Press arts, editor W. G. Rogers said the performance was a "splendid send-off for the Met's diamond jubilee year." It also was a splendid financial sendoff for the 1958-59 season, with $86,687 taken in on opening night, an all-time record.

'Togetherness' Seen Danger To Contented Husbands

What in heaven's name are the women's magazines trying to do to the American husband?

They've fostered the idea of "togetherness" to the point where a wife thinks her husband is a heel if he reads the evening paper while she does the dinner dishes alone.

They've played up Papa as chef with such enthusiasm that all over the country big strong men are presiding over back-yard barbecues, dressed in big aprons and white caps, while Mama leans back in a lawn chair and complains that smoke gets in her eyes.

Now, the latest copy of a leading women's magazine, in listing ways in which its readers can make their marriages more exciting, offers these suggestions for husbands:

"Don't think you always have to keep your chin up. Cry a little—she'll love mothering you." In other words, acting like a man isn't really worth the trouble. "Grow a beard." Is the beard to cry into or is it to make sure that Papa looks like a member of the beat generation?

"Kiss your wife in public." You know, Pop, like the girls do when they greet each other for lunch in town.

"Take her to Paris for the weekend. Fly now—pay later." Why be a dull, hard-working clod when you could make Mama's life gay, gay, gay?

Aren't those ideas something? Of course, Papa isn't likely to stumble over them, since they appear in a publication directed toward women.

But Mama will read them and unless she has been married long enough to have better sense she may take them to heart and start yearning for the kind of unpredictable husband who any day might grow a beard, burst into tears, kiss her on Main Street, or say, "To heck with the payment on the house; let's fly to Paris for the weekend."

Sabin Attends Albany Parley on Mental Hospitals

Robert L. Sabin, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, attended the 1958 Mental Hospital Institute in Albany on Monday.

Sabin is a member of the New York State Citizens Advisory Group for Mental Hospitals, as well as chairman of a task force investigating the construction of new mental hospitals.

The advisory group is a study committee of the New York State Society for Mental Health and consists of 60 state-wide men and women who are interested in helping to disseminate accurate information about mental health and its cure.

James L. Lumb of Poughkeepsie, a member of the advisory group, was chairman of the institute.

Among the speakers were Dr. Paul Hoch, commissioner of the State Department of Mental Hygiene, and Dr. Arthur M. Pense, deputy commissioner of that department.

The upsurge of interest in the promotion of mental health during recent years has resulted in a tendency for communities to cope with mental health conditions on a local level.

In Kingston the new Mental Health Clinic is now in operation under the direction of Dr. Maurice Greenhill.

Where formerly the discussion of mental illness was taboo, the mentally ill under a stigma, today the growing knowledge and incidence of cure has encouraged more people to bring mental health problems into the open, Sabin reported on his return from the institute.

GM Plants Ready To Resume Work In Western N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The network of General Motors Corp. plants in Western New York was ready today to return to normal operations after strikes that began nearly four weeks ago.

GM officials said that about 4,000 workers have been recalled and that more would return as production resumed.

Two locals representing 550 men at the Chevrolet force and 1,300 at the foundry ratified plant contracts Monday.

The forge and foundry supply important parts to other plants in the area and the work stoppage had forced the others to lay off men. GM employs about 12,000 UAW members in the Buffalo area and Lockport.

The seven plants are expected to reach full production later this week. The forge and foundry disputes were the last to be settled. The other five plants agreed on local contracts one by one over the past weeks.

In another industry, about 500 Electrical Workers ended their 17-week strike by ratifying a contract with Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., Monday night.

The men are scheduled to return to work Wednesday. A union spokesman said the contract calls for raises ranging from 10 to 22 cents an hour over the next two years. Present wage scales were not disclosed.

Why We Say--

SUN FLOWERS 11-27

RAY'S OF SUN: Then sun flower or helionthus (Greek helio for sun) was so named because its petals resemble the rays of the sun. The flower is said always to face the sun, start in the east in the morning and ending in the west at night. Sun flowers came into prominence with the Presidential campaign of Alfred Landon, who hailed from the Sun Flower state, Kansas... The sun flower is not only decorative, it is used as food for cattle.

RUSSIANS RENEW ASWAN OFFER — The Soviet Union has again offered Egypt financial assistance to begin construction of the mammoth Aswan High Dam, Premier Nasser's answer to his growing population. The Russian offer of 100 million dollars would be one-fifth to one-sixth the entire cost of the dam which, when completed, would add two million acres to the country's present 60 million acres of arable land (see Newsmag). Withdrawal of U. S. and British offers of dam aid in 1956 led to Nasser's seizure and nationalization of the Suez Canal.

Marbletown P-TF Holds Classroom Visitation Night

Hundreds of parents, teachers and friends attended the P-TF Club classroom visitation night program held recently at Marbletown Elementary School.

Teachers welcomed visitors in the classrooms, and testbooks, papers, projects, art work, and children's folders were available for inspection. Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck presided at the business meeting held in the cafeteria. The following committees were announced. Nominating, John Basten, Mmes. Ellsworth, Sperring; Fund raising, Chet Davis, Irving Feinberg, Charles Harris, Mmes. Coates, Felsen; Publicity, Mmes. Blanchard, Knudsen; Membership, Frances Calceveccio; Program, Mmes. Meineke, B. A motion to purchase a dozen maple trees to be planted along the classroom wing facing south was approved by the club. This will add to the beauty of the campus and will provide shade in future years it was pointed out. Since last year's family style chicken dinner was reported successful it was agreed to repeat it again next spring. This will be the only large fund raising activity of the year. Plans are already underway to insure its success.

The next P-TF Club meeting will be changed to the third Thursday of November. The program will be called "Information Please" and will include timely questions regarding subject matter, how subjects are being taught today, homework vs. no homework, and others.

Rare Eagle Escapes

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A rare African fish eagle, said by its owner to be the only one of its kind ever brought to this country, has escaped.

The big bird with a seven-foot wingspread apparently broke a leather strap attached to its leg and took off while its owner, James Fowler, was out of town last week.

Fowler appealed to the public not to shoot the eagle, which he said is completely harmless. He offered a reward for its return.

Fowler said the eagle has a white head with brown and white wing and body feathers. He snared the bird early this year while in South Africa on a location expedition for an American film company.

Intruder Settles for $2

PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — "You'll remember this all your life," said Mrs. Marie Munzer to an intruder who tried to hold her up. He approached her with a knife.

"I know it," said the man, "but I'm desperate for money."

Mrs. Munzer, operator of a liquor store, then lectured the bandit on why crime doesn't pay.

The intruder interrupted her and told her he'd settle for $2.

"Well, alright," said Mrs. Munzer. "But never do it again."

Then he left.

He announced that a state fire training program would be held at the Glasco Firehouse at 7:30 p. m., on the following dates: Nov. 20, Dec. 4, 11 and 18 and Jan. 8 and 15. Deputy Chief Harold Sanford of the Kingston Fire Department will serve as instructor.

Link to Be Ready

An ice skating rink has been constructed on Esopus Avenue, Town of Ulster, and will be ready for use this winter, it was announced. It was built by the hose company for benefit of children and adults of the community.

Chairman Paul Werner of the rink committee also invited volunteers to report to the rink site this Saturday and Sunday to assist in the construction of a storm shed, benches, etc., for the comfort of skaters.

Rogers Murphy, post commander of the Catholic War Veterans of Kingston and first vice commander of the Department of New York, was unanimously elected to the post of secretary of the company, succeeding Richard Lowe. Murphy is a member of the accounting department of the comptroller's office of IBM. Chairman Roy Bream reported that plans for a Halloween party at the Chambers School Friday night were complete. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

Thanksgiving Dance

Rogers Murphy also reported that a pre-Thanksgiving dance would be held at the firehouse Saturday, Nov. 22, open to all firemen and their friends.

Dress will be informal—casual, sportswear, etc.

"Let's all enjoy an evening of good music with the net profit to be used by the Christmas Cheer committee so Santa can distribute gifts again this year to all the little boys and girls in the town of Ulster," he said.

He said that refreshments would be available at nominal prices.

Members of the committee are Raymond Bellows, Walter Burger, Herbert Fordman and Orville Klomps.

Music will be provided by the Starlight Trio.

The company also voted to instruct its delegates to the Ulster County Firemen's Association to support the election of a fire chief at the first meeting in January. The present law states that such chiefs are to be elected in April.

At Uptown Bank

Currier & Ives Prints to Be on View Nov. 3-14

A $300,000 collection of original Currier & Ives prints will be exhibited in the lobby of the Ulster County Savings Institution Nov. 3-14, it was announced today.

The exhibit was assembled by Traveler's Insurance Companies. Its local showing was arranged by the Frederick R. Chidsey Agency.

It is reported that the prints constitute one of the finest collections available.

The prints colorfully depict rural and urban scenes of late 19th Century America, as well as events of political and social importance.

This particular collection was started 22 years ago, since that time 265 of the lithographs having been reproduced in calendars published by the company. The calendars were designed to reawaken an interest in art depicting the history of the United States.

It was pointed out that what television and newspapers do today to illustrate contemporary life and culture, Currier & Ives did for their time. The famous lithographic firm was the foremost recorder of the events of that gaudy period.

A leaflet describing the collection will be available in the lobby of the bank.

Faubus Promises To Hit Back if Bombings Occur

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) Gov. Orval E. Faubus has promised retaliation against anyone who would bomb Arkansas schools or churches in the heat of race or religious prejudice.

The governor's statement Monday followed hoax threats to bomb white schools in Jacksonville and Hot Springs and earlier reports, which proved false, that two Jewish synagogues in downtown Little Rock would be bombed.

Other developments in the integration conflict here included: 1. The admission of 218 juniors to an expanding white high school established by the Little Rock Private School Corp., which was formed to provide instruction for white students displaced from the closed public schools. It has been operating classes for seniors since last Tuesday and plans to admit sophomores this week.

2. Enrollment of 35 Little Rock white students at a new high school division of a Missionary Baptist college at Conway, 32 miles northeast of here. Classes will begin next week.

3. An appeal for more students by a new Baptist High School here to "make us more solvent." A total of 360 students had enrolled as of Monday.

Queen Opens Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II opened a new session of Britain's ancient Parliament from her golden throne in the House of Lords today. It was a ceremony full of the pomp and pageantry carried over from the Middle Ages, but this one had TV.

The formalities were highlighted by the reading of the Queen's speech, a document written for the monarch by the elected government. It ranged lightly over almost every aspect of the government's program for the 1958-59 legislative year.

Aussies Solve 27-Year-Old Air Mystery

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's greatest aviation mystery—the disappearance of the Southern Cloud 27 years ago — was solved today.

The three-engine Fokker disappeared March 21, 1931, on a flight from Sydney to Melbourne. It carried two pilots and six passengers, including American theatrical producer Clyde Hood.

A search party following the tip of a construction worker found old wreckage of a plane half buried on the side of one of the Snowy Mountains, 5,000-foot World's End.

Civil aviation officials today identified the engine numbers as those of the Southern Cloud. They found fragments of bone in the wreckage and a metal luggage tag inscribed "Hood Care Capitol Theater," the property of the American passenger.

Over the years trees had grown large through the twisted nose and fuselage of the plane.

The Southern Cloud was one of three Fokkers operated by the Australian National Airways.

The plane was found in rugged country where few people had been until recent months.

KHS, Vincentian Tops Card; Two UCAL Contests Slated

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Unbeaten, once-titled Vincentian Institute of Albany, perennial upstate Diocesan league champion, will attempt to halt the amazing twenty-game winning streak compiled by Kingston High School, when it meets the Maroon in a stand-out attraction, Saturday, 2 p. m., at Hawkins stadium, Albany. This will mark the first football meeting between the two schools and it could be a good one.

There are other top grid games on the slate this weekend as king football nears the home stretch.

Port Jervis, on the upswing after a slow start, travels to Newburgh Saturday afternoon for an important DUSO clash with Stan Hemingway's Goldbacks. NFA is unbeaten in five starts but may have some trouble with the fast improving Porters.

Two top contests are listed in the UCAL league. First place New Paltz is host in its annual Halloween night contest against Rondout Valley, Ontario, the only club with a chance to win or tie for the title, plays at Marlboro in a Saturday skirmish. Ed Witko's gridders have a postponed game scheduled for Election Day against New Paltz. That one will probably be for the marbles.

The champion in the Dutchess County Scholastic league will be the winner of the game at Wappingers Falls between the Fallmen and Highland, the defending titleholder. In another DCCL clash, Saugerties is host to Roosevelt.

Middies, PHS on Road

The cellar club in the DUSO league, Middletown, has a date at Mt. Vernon against A. B. Davis. The Middies have dropped five straight and are still seeking a victory. Poughkeepsie tries to recover from its lost weekend at Kingston by playing at Beacon in a non-league skirmish.

However, as has been the case since the start of the winning streak back in 1955, all eyes will be focused on the Kingston game. Though the Lions do not boast as powerful a club as last year, they have captured three wins in four outings and their only stumble has been a 13-13 tie two weeks ago against Christian Brothers Academy. The team has won eight straight Diocesan league crowns and has only to beat LaSalle tonight at Hawkins stadium to insure at least a tie for a ninth straight championship. The contest was snowed out Sunday and was scheduled for 7 o'clock tonight.

Eleven Games Without Losing

Vincincent is no stranger in the DUSO league. In a two game series with Poughkeepsie in 1956 and 1957, the upstarters broke even. They lost, 13-9, in the Bridge City two seasons ago and last year humbled the Pioneers, 33-19. The club has gone eleven straight contests without a loss, playing most of its games against teams in the Diocesan league.

The Maroon players were off last weekend and it was just as well. They probably wouldn't have played Saturday anyway, the way the rain fell. Bill Burke had his gridders working out last week and they will drill hard this week as they swing into the second half of a difficult schedule. Vincincent is the fifth contest on an eight game slate.

Corkery to Play

Burke said yesterday that end Terry Corkery, who did not suit up for Poughkeepsie game worked out last Friday and appears ready against Vincincent. The coach said the entire squad should be in good physical shape for Saturday's contest and will be ready for anything the Lions may throw.

Charles Loses Comeback Effort

DALLAS (AP)—Ezzard Charles, once heavyweight champion of the world, slumped in his dressing room Monday night, beaten by age, a wild-swinging youngster, and Charles said, a sore ankle.

"He never hurt me," Charles mumbled. "This fight doesn't tell the tale for me."

Donnie Fleeman, who gave away 20 pounds and a world of experience, had bombed and stabbed the plodding Charles almost at will for five rounds. In the sixth a short right caught the one-time Cincinnati cobra on the jaw and Fleeman followed it with a wild flurry by both hands.

Charles went down, rolled over ponderously and struggled toward his feet. But the referee waved Fleeman off, then raised the right hand of the Texas lightweight champion from Midlothian at 2:13 of the sixth.

Can Still Hit

"He can still hit and he can take a punch," Fleeman, 26 and 182 pounds, said, "but his legs wouldn't move."

Charles 37 and 202 pounds, started slowly. At first Fleeman fought carefully, but later reverted to his usual slam-bang style.

Charles said he hurt his left ankle in training Friday but didn't say anything about it because he "didn't think it would be right that close to a fight to call it off."

Charles is 1-3 on his comeback attempt and Fleeman is 30-2.

Kingston YMCA Wins Tournament

Kingston YMCA weightlifting team won first place honors in a contest at the Poughkeepsie IBM Saturday. The local strong men edged the Yonkers Athletic Club for the honors. The competition featured lifts of press, snatch, clean and jerk.

Barry Lavey, with a lift of 680 pounds, won first place in the heavyweight division. Ron Wolven captured honors in the lightweight class with a lift of 670 pounds. Wolven also won the odd lift contest with a squat lift of 400 pounds.

Harry Maxwood finished second in the middleweight division with 625 pounds. Bernie Ghezzi finished fifth in the middleweight class with a 470 total. It was his first try in competition.

This marks the first time in many years that the Kingston Y has produced a winning team in weightlifting.

Newburgh Girl Leads, Hilda Murphy Second

Acing a 773 series to her 696 total of the first week, Phyllis Lenarshi of Newburgh remained in first place in the Hudson Valley Bowling Proprietor's tournament as the 15 keggers reached the halfway mark. Kingston's Hilda Murphy jumped from fourth to second place as she added a neat 736 series for the four games to go with her 664 of the first week and a total of 1,400 pins.

Bowling last weekend took place at the Hoe Bowl Lanes, Poughkeepsie, and high scores prevailed. This weekend the women will roll their third block at Sang's Bowlero, Kingston. The fourth block will be rolled at the alleys in Florida and the finals will take place at the Bowlamatic in Newburgh. The winner will receive an expense paid trip to Buffalo.

The leader, a veteran Newburgh star, had games of 221-189-182-180 for her gaudy 773. Hilda, who has been having a good season in Kingston, had 201-154-179-202. The highest score of the day was made by Dot Rawding, another Kingston ace. She whacked 184-194-221-180 for 779 and jumped from the bottom of the ladder to sixth place.

The scores after two weeks are Phyllis Lenarshi, Newburgh, 696-773-1469; Hilda Murphy, Kingston, 664-736-1400; Jean Wallakowitz, Beacon, 635-749-1384; Mary Diana, Middletown, 654-723-1377; Judy Lowe, Kingston, 618-750-1268; Dot Rawding, Kingston, 577-779-1356; E. Schutt, Middletown, 666-670-1336; Ada Janetatos, Kingston, 627-657-1284; Sis Balash, Kingston, 631-652-1283; Alberta Hegeman, Poughkeepsie, 656-623-1279; Ronnie Wicker, Newburgh, 636-635-1271; Genevieve Masterston, Middletown, 645-612-1257; Charlotte Gordon, Newburgh, 577-651-1238; Chris Gallop, Kingston, 606-612-1218; Marge Liguori, Poughkeepsie, 596-595-1191.

Thunderbirds Lead Junior Olympics

Defeating the Tigers, 1-0, in a soccer game, the Thunderbirds stayed in front after three weeks of the ten week junior olympics, prep division, at the Kingston YMCA.

Paul Christiani broke loose with two minutes to go in the final period to score for the Thunderbirds. Earl Kinn kicked in the score for the Lions, a 2-1 loser to the Sioux. Wendell Scherer and Orman Leighton won the game for the Sioux. In the other contest, the Apaches shutout the Jaguars, 2-0, with Ricky Esposito and Joe Rapp netting the tallies.

The Thunderbirds have 142 points to lead the standings. Apaches have 140, Sioux 125, Tigers 123, Lions 90 and Jaguars 70.

Grayson Critical of Floyd Patterson; Tabs Stickles All-American Prospect

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Asking Harry Grayson a question is sure to bring an entire volume of answers, as this young and awed sportswriter found out Saturday night after chatting with a most respected sportswriter. If there is a man on the sports beat with a more thorough knowledge than Grayson, he hasn't been found yet.

Talking to Mr. Grayson for the first time, this reporter was overcome by the vast knowledge in the head of the white-haired, hard-hitting veteran, and by the frank tone in which he spoke.

His topics ranged from boxing and Floyd Patterson to football and Earl Blaik and to baseball and Casey Stengel. There is no doubt in this reporter's mind that the speaker could have lingered on one subject all night, and still not tell all he knows about it.

Grayson was critical of Patterson, his manager Gus D'Amato and their alleged feelings of the International Boxing Club. He feels that Patterson's inactivity has cost him more than two hundred thousand dollars, as well as a reputation for being a fighting champion. The NFA Sports Editor, one of the best known boxing experts in the country, feels that Patterson should be fighting all the heavyweights, no matter how poor the present crop is.

He also feels the long awaited third match between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio for the middleweight crown will become a reality this spring. Grayson said that Basilio would have won the last fight between the two if it were not for the deep cuts over his eyes.

Respects Blaik

You could tell from the way he talked about Army coach Earl "Red" Blaik, that Grayson has a deep respect for the West Point mentor. He told of watching the Cadets scrimmage three weeks before the season started against Syracuse and looking no better than a poor Ivy League club.

"But Blaik took a player that had never played a game and made a first rate quarterback out of him. Joe Caldwell made the Army team click and his becoming a good quarterback is only to the coaching of Blaik," Grayson remarked. He singled out Pete Dawkins as an inspiration to American youth for his accomplishments, not only on the football field, but in the classroom.

Grayson viewed the Army-Notre Dame game in South Bend and said that Blaik did a "magnificent" coaching job in beating the Irish in their own stadium, with what he described an "inferior" club. He feels that Irish coach Terry Brennan is on a "hot" seat at South Bend and that Notre Dame has to have a record at least as good as last year to save Brennan's job.

The veteran sports writer had words of praise for Monty Stickles, who caught a pair of touchdowns passes Saturday against Purdue. "Stickles has a chance to become real great. He is a terrific offensive end and is learning how to play his position on defense. He is fast and tough," Grayson said. He tabs Monty as a possible All-American selection either this season or next.

Grayson was critical of the past World Series. "I sat with Ty Cobb during the games and we were disgusted with the lackadaisical play of both clubs. If it weren't for those two Milwaukee pitchers (Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette), that club would be licked before the first game," Grayson remarked, again pulling no punches.

He described the base running as "atrocious" and the all-around play of the two best clubs in baseball as "indifferent."

His thoughts shifted from boxing, football and baseball to many other names and places in sports. If a person wanted to write a book on sports, Harry Grayson would be the perfect man from whom to obtain information. He has no peers as a walking sports encyclopedia.

Runnels Cited by League For 'Comeback of the Year'

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Pistol Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox, who moved up from a .230 batting average to shoot a near bull's-eye for the batting title, made the American League Comeback-of-the-Year in 1958.

This was the majority opinion of the 103 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America who participated in the annual Associated Press poll.

Runnels collected 61 votes. Bob Cery of Kansas City was next with 20, followed by Cal McLish of Cleveland with 9, Arnie Portocarrero of Baltimore 8, Yogi Berra of New York 2 and Jack Harshman and Hoyt Wilhelm of Baltimore and Mickey Vernon of Cleveland, 1 each.

Hits .322

Runnels, 30, with a .322 batting mark, finished second to teammate Ted Williams in a torrid race that was not decided until the final day. Williams wound up with .328.

In 124 games with Washington in 1957, Runnels collected only 109 hits and had his poorest of seven years in the majors. He was traded to Boston last Jan. 23, for Albie Pearson and Norm Zaichin.

Cery batted .305 with 38 homers and 104 runs batted in the past season. His hefty hitting kept the Athletics in the first division over the initial half of the season. In 1957, the big outfielder hit only .272 with 11 homers and 44 RBIs.

McLish Wins 18

McLish, a journeyman right-handed pitcher, was the ace of the Indians' staff. He won 16 games and lost eight, finishing with a commendable earned run average of 2.99. Cal's record last year was 9-7.

Portocarrero was another in the long line of Paul Richards' re-treads. The Baltimore manager obtained him for pitcher Bud Daley of Kansas City last April 18. He emerged as the Orioles' top winner. His mark was 15-11.

Moore, Durrelle Bout to Shift

MONTREAL (AP)—The Dec. 10 light heavyweight title bout between champion Archie Moore and Yvon Durrelle, the Canadian champ, may be shifted from Montreal to Toronto.

Promoter Eddie Quinn said he was negotiating with Toronto promoter Frank Tunney because of the five per cent tax the Montreal Athletic Commission imposes on fight proceeds. Quinn said the commission also is attempting to tax American television of the bout.

In Toronto, the tax bite would be two per cent. Tunney also has offered to give Quinn 10 per cent of the receipts.

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Gifford, No. 1 halfback of the New York Giants, was scheduled to test his injured knee in practice today.

Coach Jim Lee Howell said he would not know until Wednesday if Gifford will be able to play against the undefeated Cleveland Browns Sunday. Gifford injured the knee against the Chicago Cardinals Oct. 19.

Rocca's Partner Coming

Miguel Perez to Head Mat Show Next Monday

Teams With Al Torres

Against Miller Brothers

Miguel Perez, the sensational Puerto Rican grappler who has helped pack Madison Square Garden as Argentine Rocca's tag-team partner, comes to town next Monday (Nov. 3).

Perez, the idol of New York's Puerto Rican section, will be teamed with Al Torres, a 230-pounder from Mexico City, in a best-of-three falls team match against the Miller brothers—Don and Bill—of California.

Promoter Ted Bayly of Troy is enthusiastic about the headliner and says it should be one of the most exciting ever seen in Kingston.

Perez, of course, is undefeated with Rocca and they have headlined the last several Madison Square Garden shows. Several times they have attracted turn-away crowds and one of their earlier shows created a riot outside the Garden.

Kingston fans will be getting their first glimpse of Perez and the bout should attract one of the better turnouts of the season.

The remainder of the card will be announced later.

LSU Tops Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three teams in the top 10 of the Associated Press weekly college football poll are unbeaten and untied, but at least one of them will have its record smeared next Saturday.

Louisiana State, which displaced Army as the No. 1 team this week takes on Mississippi, No. 6, at Baton Rouge.

Colorado is the only other top 10 team with a spotless record, and it is in dire peril. The Buffs, No. 9, meet Oklahoma. The Sooners, No. 7 and with a one-point defeat by Texas the only blemish on their record, have been picking up speed lately.

LSU displaced Army after the Cadets played a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh, Iowa, with a penchant for knocking off previously unbeaten teams, defeated Northwestern last Saturday and moved from seventh place to second.

Cadets Third

Army dropped to third place, Auburn moved up from fifth to fourth, and Ohio State, No. 2 a week ago, dropped to fifth as a result of its tie with Wisconsin.

The remaining top 10 teams as selected by the sports writers and sportscasters, in order: Mississippi, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Colorado and Purdue.

LSU garnered 54 first-place votes in piling up 1,194 points for first place. Iowa was top choice of 33 voters as it accumulated 1,055 points. Army was first choice of 20 voters and Auburn of 23.

Three Newcomers

Three newcomers jumped into the top 10. Wisconsin took over the No. 8 spot on the strength of its tie with Ohio State; Colorado, beating Nebraska, now is No. 9; and Purdue, winning over Notre Dame, is No. 10. They replace Texas, Northwestern and Clemson all beaten Saturday.

The top 10, based on 10 points for a first place, 9 for a second, etc. (first-place votes in parentheses):

1. Louisiana State (54)1,194
2. Iowa (33)1,055
3. Army (20)955
4. Auburn (23)925
5. Ohio State (9)925
6. Mississippi (7)790
7. Oklahoma (5)616
8. Wisconsin383
9. Colorado (2)338
10. Purdue292

The second 10: Northwestern 178; Pittsburgh 144; Air Force 136; Rice 118; Navy 74; Texas 55; North Carolina (1) 52; Texas Christian 50; Clemson 26; Rutgers (1) 23.

Yonkers Feature To Southern Prince

At Batavia Downs, at the beginning of the final week of racing, Tom Row Gil won the $1,200 Class B pace.

Rochester Is Aiming For Perfect Season

Packers' Fight Vaporizes at End

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—

Coach Scooter McLean of Green Bay admits his Packers' fighting spirits seem to vaporize in the heat of the final quarter of a game.

The Packers succeeded last Sunday in gaining their first National Football League victory against three losses and a tie.

They beat the Philadelphia Eagles 38-35 after leading 38-14 in the first three quarters.

Norm Van Brocklin, Eagles' quarterback, completed 11 of 17 passes for 179 yards as he directed his team to three touchdowns in the fourth period.

"We had done a pretty good job containing him for three quarters," McLean said. "But then our defense started laying back, forgetting all about rushing him." The coach discounted the idea of a packer panic, insisting it was "just a case of not going all out all the way."

Team Relaxes

The Green Bay team, except for fullback Howie Ferguson, seemed to relax offensively as well as defensively.

While the Eagles pounced in the final period, the Packers failed to get a single first down. In fact, they never pushed beyond their own 33-yard line.

McLean said he'd stick with the same offensive backfield in the coming game with the Colts at Baltimore.

That means Babe Parilli at quarterback, Gary Knafele playing slotback, Al Carmichael at halfback and Ferguson at fullback.

Football Briefs

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—The Colgate football squad has taken to working out in the rain.

The Red Raiders drilled for 10 minutes in a downpour Monday as they opened workouts for a tough game Saturday with a powerful Army team, which is ranked No. 1 in the East.

Scouting reports on the Cadets filled out the Monday drill.

Coach Lefty James praised play of Bernard Iliff, a sophomore from Pittsburgh, in the tackle spot in Saturday's game against Princeton.

Revak, from Mt. Carmel, Pa., missed the game because of an ankle injury. James said he would have "a tough time" winning back a starting assignment from Iliff.

Cornell plays Columbia Saturday in New York City.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Syracuse University football team, with a key game coming up Saturday, has received a major boost in the return to duty of ace tackle Ron Luciano.

The 224-pound senior from Endicott was discharged Monday from the student infirmary after a seven-day bout with a virus infection.

Syracuse plays Pittsburgh Saturday. Both are among leading contenders for the Lambert Trophy, awarded annually to the best team in the East.

Kingston High Jayvees Rap Pioneers, 25 to 0

Bill Hurley's Kingston High School jayvee gridders won their third contest in as many starts yesterday by beating Poughkeepsie, 25-0, at mud-splattered Dietz stadium.

The Maroon scored twice in the first quarter and once each in the third and fourth periods. The Pioneers were held to a pair of first downs as play was in their territory most of the game.

Bob Decker tallied in the first stanza of a four yard run to climax a 70-yard drive. Dick Sickler tallied later in the period when he went 35-yards up the middle. Decker plunged for the extra point.

Kingston rolled again after the halftime intermission with Decker running 12-yards for a touchdown. Sickler tallied the last one on a glittering 58-yard run around end.

Bert Believes Ingemar Is Best

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight Bert Whitehurst, who has trained with both, firmly believes Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson will dethrone World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson if they ever meet.

"Don't let anyone under-rate that Johansson," said Whitehurst today. "I saw him knock out Eddie Machen in the first round. It was no fluke, either. I predicted Johansson would beat him and I think he could beat him 10 out of 10 times."

"Johansson is a very good fighter. He has a good left jab, a sneaky fast and powerful right hand and an excellent left hook. And he can take a good punch. Too, if you hit him. But he's hard to hit square."

Still Unbeaten

Johansson, 26, 6-feet and 198 pounds, has won all 21 of his pro fights, 13 of them by knockouts. Machen had been unbeaten in 25 fights, including a draw with Zora Foley, when he was flattened by Ingemar at Goteborg, Sept. 14.

Whitehurst, who lost a 10-rounder to Sonny Liston last Friday night, is very high on the hard-hitting Philadelphia.

Liston drapped Whitehurst over the ropes in the final seconds and the bell saved Bert from a knockout. It was Liston's 14th straight victory and the 20th in 21 pro fights for the 26-year old contender. He has scored 12 knockouts. "He still has a lot to learn but he can beat most everyone around anyway," said Whitehurst. "His trouble is getting the other guys in the top ten to fight him. He and Johansson would make a great fight."

Hopes Dwindle

Meanwhile, Manager Bobby Gleason has given up hopes of matching his contender, Cuban Nino Valdes, with Patterson.

"Cus (Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager) is mad at me. I guess," said Gleason. "He's mad at everyone except Patterson I think."

"I guess we'll have to go to Europe again," said Gleason. "My guy won six straight over there."

Just Wants to Win

Burnham isn't too excited about the unscored on angle. He's more interested just in winning. But he admits his kids are "all steamed up about going all the way with their goal lines unscored."

Two members of the team, guard and Captain Larry Palvino of Rochester and quarterback Gene Nicandri of Seneca Falls, last year won Little All American honorable mention.

"Nicandri is the best passer I've had in 15 years at Rochester and fullback Walt Campbell is almost as good a lineoacker as Palvino, Burnham observed.

His squad doesn't have too much depth. Against Kings Point last Saturday, Burnham used only 14 players in scoring a 14-0 victory.

Cardinals Rout Jap Stars, 9-1

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals bombarded four Japanese pitchers for 10 hits, including a three-run homer by first baseman Joe Cunningham, and defeated the Japan All-Stars 9-1 today.

Redbird starter Bob Blaylock gave up only two hits, one of them an inside the park circuit clout, in seven innings. Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell finished up, allowing one hit.

The National Leaguers came back with a vengeance to make up for their 6-3 defeat Monday—the only one thus far in the four games played in their 16-game tour of Japan.

Most Colleges Still Kicking Despite New Conversion Rule

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's new conversion rule has broken a few ties and a few hearts, but all in all, the football is still getting a big kick in the game.

There was a great deal of balmyhoo on what effect the rule allowing two points after a touchdown on a successful run or pass would have in breaking ties, whooping up the crowds and putting new interest into the game.

The coaches favored the new rule over the conventional one point for a place or drop kick during the first four games. But after the fifth game, or halfway point, the kick was back in business, and gaining a bit of impetus from its first, and healthier cousin, the field goal.

National Collegiate Service Bureau statistics show that place kicks have been successful 65 percent on 484 tries after 744 touchdowns.

Walters Boots Twice

Army helped this along last Saturday when Harry Walters was sent in to boot two conversions when the Cadets scored twice in the second quarter against Pitt.

The game wound up a 14-14 tie when Pitt, missing a pass for two points after its first touchdown, connected after the second on an Ivan Tonic to Dick Haley aerial. This points up the figures that show 152 successful passes for the PATs after 303 touchdowns, coupled with 172 successful rushes after 401 touchdowns, for a 46.5 percent average for passing and rushing. The combined average is 55.8 on 808 hits on 1,448 TDs.

A year ago, using the one point rule, it was 63.4 percent on 907 PATs after a comparable number of touchdowns.

Plays For Tie

Ohio State belied the wishes of the rules makers when it chose to play for a tie after scoring in the third quarter against Wisconsin Saturday. The Badgers led 7-6 and Coach Woody Hayes instructed Dave Kilgore to kick for the point. He made it and Hayes has been the subject of mixed feelings on the tie vs. win subject since.

On the other hand, winless Minnesota "went for broke," when it drew within one point of Michigan at 20-19 in the fourth quarter Saturday. The Gophers spurned a tie, went for a two-point on a pass and lost when the pass failed.

The field goal, though to be more of a professional football weapon, also has been a potent college weapon. Fifty-four have been kicked so far, as compared to 32 this time last year, and 64 for the entire season. The record is 82 set in 1952.

It had its effect too. Top-ranked Louisiana State eked out its 10-7 victory over Florida with a field goal last Saturday night, a most recent example.

The national scoring average is a solid 31 points per game, with the supposedly weak-sister East leading with a 36.3 average. This is mainly due to Rutgers (36.4), Syracuse (28.8) and Army (26.8). All are active this week, with Army concentrating on rehabilitating its tired forces, but buoyed with the promise of fulltime service from halfback Pete Dawkins.

Syracuse has ace tackle Don Luciano, out last Saturday with virus pneumonia, back for duty against Pitt.

Northwestern (27.8) leads the Big 10 and Midwest area, but meets Ohio State Saturday. The Wildcats practiced defense Monday with linebacker Jim Andretti and fullback Mike Stock, on the injury list, expected to be ready.

Colorado (31.2) and Oklahoma (30.0) have their battle for the Big 8 title this Saturday, with OU's alternate fullback Dave Rolle out of action with a twisted knee.

Soph Bob Cornell took over the first string quarterback duties ahead of Bob Boyd and Dave Baker.

Longden to Try Walking Today

Johnny Longden, racing's galloping grandpa whose career spans more than 5,100 winners, will walk today without the aid of crutches as he takes the first step toward resuming his riding duties.

The 48-year-old jockey has been on crutches since he suffered a broken right leg—the second in 13 months—in a training accident at Del Mar race track Sept. 7.

Winner of more horse races than any other jockey, Longden rode to his 5,000th triumph at Santa Anita Feb. 28, 1957. Less than six months later he was sidelined with the first break.

Asked if he would retire, Longden said "no."

Then came the second break, the same question, the same retort.

Longden wants to ride in this winter's Santa Anita meeting. He tried walking without crutches Monday for the first time and did so well the doctor said beginning today he could discard them permanently.

Why does Longden want to climb back into the saddle? Natch, he wants to ride his 6,000th winner.

Two Held, Pair Sought to Wrapup Big Bank Holdup

BOSTON (AP)—Two men were held in heavy bail and two others were hunted today as police and FBI agents strove for a quick wrapup in their intensive probe of the $107,254 holdup of the Middlesex County National Bank in Cambridge.

Crack Cast Monday

Nearly half the loot grabbed in the bank haul last week was recovered as investigators cracked the case Monday.

Norman Fish, 26-year-old Boston window washer, whose estranged wife is employed in a bank, was held in $25,000 bail for a second appearance on an armed robbery charge before U. S. Commissioner Francis H. Farrell Friday.

Domenick M. Giandomenico, 44, of Norwood, an automobile mechanic, was held in $50,000 as an accessory by Cambridge police. Police said he signed a statement admitting he helped steal the auto used as the getaway car.

Sought on warrants charging armed robbery were two men identified by police as Giandomenico's brother, James, 33, of Walpole, and Lawrence Rice of Cambridge and The Bronx, N. Y. In addition to being wanted for questioning in the bank holdup, Rice is sought in connection with a $1,200 restaurant robbery several months ago.

Blurts Out Role

Fish, who lives in the shadows of the police station in the Mattapan district of Boston, was arrested originally on a charge of stealing a motorcycle.

While being booked, police said, he blurted out his part in the Cambridge bank robbery to officers.

To Divide Floor Space for Teen Halloween Dance

Teenagers and adults will have the use of the main part of the floor at Saugerties Municipal Auditorium for the Halloween dance Friday night following the annual costume parade through the village streets. The parade starts at the auditorium at 7 p. m. Dancing will be from 8 to 11 p. m. The major part of the auditorium floor will be designated for teenagers and adults. Another section of the floor will be partitioned for near-teens and the younger set.

Joey Vigna's 10-piece orchestra will play for the annual teenage dance through a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry. The arrangement was made by Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, Kingston.

Molra Altevogt, Miss Saugerties of 1959, her attendants, Susan Harris and Judith Kaminski, and a teenage committee will be in charge of the dance.

Mrs. Albert L. Giannotti is general chairman of the Saugerties Youth Council sponsored event. Contributions toward the expenses of the observance may be made to Mrs. Marian Eckert, council treasurer, Livingston Street.

Methodist Parish Consecrates New Parsonage Sunday

The new parsonage of Saugerties Methodist Church was consecrated Sunday afternoon, just one year from the time work was first begun on the building.

The district superintendent, the Rev. W. Bernard Grossman of Kingston, commended the local congregation for its foresight, vision and courage in meeting its expansion opportunities in such a realistic fashion. He said the Saugerties parsonage is "the most beautiful" in the New York Conference.

Lewis Fellows, chairman of the trustee board, recounted the history of the building project which demonstrated an amazing unanimity of opinion and action in the congregational meetings, authorizing the purchase of the lot, the selection of a building plan and contractor, and the financing of the entire project through an expansion fund campaign for $25,000.

The pastor, the Rev. George Werner, led the assembled guests in the Litany of Consecration.

Mrs. Werner invited the guests to inspect the home decorated with roses, fall foliage and fruits, and to partake of refreshments. The home is designed with the living area facing the mountains in an unbroken view. The breakfast room, dining room and living room have large glass expanses toward the Catskill Mountains.

Facing the street is the pastor's study which door is adjacent to the front entrance. The central hallway makes it possible to go into the kitchen, living room, or bedroom area without passing through any other rooms. The living area is separated from the sleeping area by a door enclosed hall.

The home also features a full basement and separate garage. Two of the church families anonymously donated the money for a fireplace on the east wall of the living room. This wall is constructed of redwood. In addition to the master bathroom, there is a one half bath which opens on the pastor's study and the service room. Window height is designed to give privacy in the bedrooms and full view in the living room, dining room and kitchen nook.

Members and friends of the congregation are invited to inspect the parsonage at any time.

Church Council Sets Reformation Service Sunday

A special Reformation service sponsored by Saugerties Area Council of Churches will be held Sunday at 8 p. m. in Saugerties Reformed Church.

The Rev. Howard G. Hageman, DD, pastor of North Reformed Church, Newark, N. J. will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Hageman is vice-president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church, and a part-time professor at New Brunswick Seminary.

Music for the occasion will be provided by a youth choir composed of young men and women from the various churches in the council. They will be under the direction of Donald S. Fellows, choir director of Atonement Lutheran Church.

Miss Frances Maxwell, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke on the uses now being made of the present parish house, which has been converted from the old parsonage when the pastor's family moved to the new Finger Street home. She told how the accelerated growth of the Sunday school had made expansion necessary and imperative, and how the old parsonage was an ideal solution to the expansion problems. It has eight large rooms which have been converted into class rooms.

The congregation joined in the prayer of consecration.
